Senior Deputy Ministers Do
Not Take Kindly to Wearing Uniforms.

Loss Off Yarmouth of Steamer
Turbin With All Hands Confirmed.

Lights That Failed Caused a Humorous Situation at State Dance.

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—Some of the senior deputy ministers are opposed to the suggestion that they should secure uniforms for state functions. The movement for securing uniforms emanated from some of the younger men amongst the corps of deputies.

The government will build new locomotive shops at Moncton to cost half a million dollars.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will attend the meetings of the geological congress to be held here in December.

Mayor Ellis yesterday definitely announced himself as a candidate for a third term.

Tidings of Russian Massacres

A local Hebrew, A. Harris, has received a letter from his brother, who lives at Tiraspol, Russia. The city is a small one, containing only 1,200 families, mostly Hebrews, 53 miles north of Odessa. The massacres, he says, were kept up for eight days, during which time 41 Jews were killed and 360 wounded.

A short meeting of the cabinet was held today, but only routine business was transacted.

Wreck of Turbin Confirmed

Halifax, Nov. 24.—The steamer Marian, after making a search at the scene of the wreck, confirms the loss of the Norwegian steamer Turbin off Black Island, with all hands on board. Fishermen on Mud Island, near Black Ledge, reported that they watched the Turbin going to her doom on the ledge. The steamer headed straight for the ledge, struck and backed off, after which she toppled over and sank. The government steamer Lady Laurier arrived in port today from Sable Island, and Captain Johnson says it was the Lady Laurier that Captain Kilyee saw off Beaver Harbor last Thursday. Captain Allan reported that a steamer had foundered there with all hands, but Johnson says no steamer was there, that he was carried off the island at the time Captain Allan reported, and that there was no other steamer in sight.

Young Teacher's End

Quebec, Nov. 24.—A young man named Jenner of Chatham, Ont., who has been for several years a teacher in the Quebec high school, was found in his bedroom this morning fatally wounded as a result of a revolver shot. He was taken to the hospital, where he died later. It is not yet known whether the case is one of suicide or accident.

Fire in Montreal

Montreal, Nov. 24.—The four-story stone building occupied by Lajeunesse & Duches, produce merchants, the Montreal Hat & Cap Manufacturing Co., and J. H. Malden, manufacturer, Dyonville square, this city, was gutted by fire last night. The loss is about $15,000, covered by insurance. The building is in the heart of the congested business district.

When the Lights Went Out

Toronto, Nov. 24.—The electric lights went out during a big dance at Government House last night, and candles and lamps had to be substituted. There were about 500 dancers and they made the best of the circumstances, but there were many humorous situations.

A Prolonged Dispute

A Washington despatch says the dispute between the United States and Canadian governments regarding the use of the waters of Milk River for irrigation purposes is no nearer settlement than it was six years ago.

With the Doukhobors

According to Mr. Fraser Aylesworth, the Dominion land surveyor, who has spent considerable time with them, the Doukhobors in Western Canada are making excellent settlers and citizens.

St. Boniface's New Cathedral

Winnipeg, Nov. 24.—The bells of the Roman mission that call from their "turrets twain" will once again be quoted from Whitier's immortal poem, with all truthfulness. Since the famed cathedral in St. Boniface was destroyed by fire there has been no "turrets twain" to perpetuate the poem of the "Red River Voyageur," but plans are now being prepared to erect another cathedral, and this time two spires will deck the "Roman mission." The present cathedral in St. Boniface, which was built since the fire of 1860, has only one steeple. The plans for the new cathedral are being prepared by Architects Haskell and Marchant of Montreal, who will soon invite tenders privately. The dimensions of the structure will be 300x100 feet, and it will be built of native stone. The spires will not be built until a few months after the main body of the cathedral has been erected.

Growing Cattle Trade

The cattle trade during the season just closing has been fairly satisfactory. There was an increase of over 50 per cent. in the number of head exported, and prices ruled slightly higher than those prevailing last year. In 1904 there were 32,471 head exported and 7,962 head consumed by the Winnipeg trade. This year there were 49,748 head exported and 9,208 consumed locally, making a total number passing through Winnipeg yards 65,956, or 25,523 in excess of last year.

Settlers Pouring In

North Portal, Sask., Nov. 24.—Two hundred and twenty settlers and their effects entered Canada through here from the United States yesterday.

Sawmill Burns at Prince Albert

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 24.—Fire broke out in Hutchison's sawmill, two miles west of this city, at 11:30 last night, and in half an hour the building and contents were a total wreck. It was valued at $8,000 and covered by insurance. The fire brigade turned out, but could do nothing to save the building, as the fire had gained such headway before the alarm was given that it was beyond control. This is the third mill burned in Prince Albert this year.

Giant's Brother Injured

Moosajaw, Sask., Nov. 24.—The eldest surviving brother of Edward Beaupre, the famous Willow Bunch giant, was seriously, if not fatally, wounded in a gunning accident Thursday at his home, 30 miles south here. His companion let a gun fall and the charge lodged in his leg. A little baby also was wounded, slightly.

Sheep Ranchers Happy

Lethbridge, Nov. 24.—Sheep ranchers have experienced the best season in the history of the Canadian West. Wool prices were unusually high, and a ready market for all offerings. Lambs are worth $2.50 on the hoof, and any kind of breeding commands from $4 to $6.

Fate of Sealing Schooner Fawn

Probable Wreck of a Victoria
Vessel Reported by Eye Witness.

Crew of Maid of Orleans Tells of Destruction of Unknown Craft.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PORT TOWNSEND, Nov. 24.—Together with a tale of woe covering her own experiences the Maid of Orleans, now anchored here, brought tidings which probably explain the continued absence of the sealing schooner Fawn, long overdue, and the one of the Victoria sealing fleet which has not returned in safety this season. It is almost a certainty that the Fawn was dashed to pieces on the rocky shore of the northern portion of Vancouver Island on the 16th of the present month. On that date, while laboring heavily herself, the Orleans sighted a small schooner making bad weather.

In a Northwest Gale

which was sweeping the coast. It was with the greatest difficulty that the Orleans, bound north, succeeded in evading the rocky shore, towards which the other vessel was racing in the gale.

As night fell the schooner was still dashing on her road to destruction, and as the storm increased in violence with the closing in of night, she was more than likely ground to pieces and her gallant crew drowned in the raging surf that night. As no vessel of the size and description noted was bound south excepting the Fawn, it is generally conceded that the Orleans witnessed the last of that trim little packet, although at the time she was too far off to distinguish her name or communicate in any way with her.

No Assistance Possible

No assistance could have been rendered in any respect by the Orleans, for she too was in a critical condition. Her decks were flooded the second day out, and from that time until she put about and labored back here the forecastle and cabin were flooded. On the night of the 16th the foresail and jibs were split to ribbons in the gale. When the backstays gave way, however, the crew went aft, and backed up by the masts, demanded the return of the schooner to the straits. Captain Taylor was alone in his desire to proceed, and against the odds he was forced to give in and shape his course for Cape Flattery. Nothing daunted by their experience, the Western Fuel Company, owners of the Orleans, intend shipping a new crew, from master down, and again attempt to deliver at Saldova, on Cook's Inlet, the general cargo of supplies and blasting powder for the miners, with which she started originally from San Francisco on September 30. On that day the vessel came within 70 miles of destination, but the increasing pressure of the wind and the twisted steering appliances, Captain Taylor was compelled to put about, and, running straight away before the gale, make his way back to the Sound for repairs. He reached this haven on October 28, and after effecting repairs again started north on November 8.

Maniac in San Francisco Beats

SEATTLE, Nov. 24.—Developments in the arrest of George Edward Adams, cashier of the United States assay office here, for embezzlement, indicate that instead of stealing thirty-five thousand in gold dust, to which he confessed, his pecuniations will amount close to $200,000, and instead of covering the past six months they will run farther back than 1903.

Adams' bondsmen today withdrew from the $30,000 bond given last night and Adams was remanded to jail to await preliminary hearing.

Federal officers learned that in 1897 Adams was a defaulter to the amount of almost $10,000. He was then State

RUMORS OF MUTINY.

London, Nov. 24.—A despatch to Reuters Telegram Company from St. Petersburg says it is persistently reported there that there has been mutiny in the Black Sea fleet and that portions of the Sebastopol garrison have mutinied, killing the chief of staff and wounding a colonel.

Superintendent's Culpable Action

Fred A. Wing, now superintendent of the assay office, was then state agent for the insurance company. With a full knowledge that Adams was a defaulter Wing placed him in the assay office, believing that Adams, he said, had thoroughly repented of his indiscretion and that in future he would be honest.

Several Alaska men have already informed the federal authorities that they have been defrauded by some one in the assay office. One man declares that out of $6,000 in gold dust he deposited there only $5,200 was returned to him. Friends of the family have not dared to inform Mrs. Adams of her husband's troubles. Mrs. Adams is in a delicate state of health and the news might kill her. She was Miss Emily Clary, a well-known society girl.

Maniac's Appalling Crime

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—Louis Dopoli declares that his sister-in-law, whom he killed, held his children under a hypnotic spell. His baby daughter, Annie, recently was afflicted with eye trouble, and this he attributed to the mysterious influence of the woman he killed. It is asserted that while prayers were being offered for the recovery of the child's eyesight Dopoli suddenly seized a chair and began the frenzied assault, from which he did not cease until long after the death of Catherine. Dopoli's sister-in-law, whose body was beaten out of resemblance to the human form.

'Frisco's Street Railways Sold

The United railroads of San Francisco have changed hands. The New York banking house of Brown Bros. & Company, which has controlled the local street railway since the consolidation four years ago, no longer have any interest in the properties. Arthur Holman, who during the past four years has filled the position of president, will retire at the end of December. Just what interests have succeeded in the control of the United railroads is not officially announced, but it is known that the owners are the New York banking house of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co. and its associates and clients. Patrick Calhoun continues to be the largest individual stockholder in the controlling company and it is said will have the naming of the new president.

SULTAN'S THINLY VEILED THREATS

Hints That Naval Demonstration
May Lead to Massacre of Christians.

CONSTANTINOPLE, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 24.—The porte's reply to the demands of the powers is not only a categorical rejection of the demands, but contains thinly veiled threats that the pressure of Europe will possibly exert the Turk population to reprisals on the Christians. The note declares that the Ottoman government loyally reduced the reforms demanded by the Muerzeg programme and says that if those did not entirely succeed, the fault was in the hatred dividing the nationalities in Macedonia and instigation from abroad. The communication states that the Turkish government finds it absolutely impossible to accept financial control of Macedonia, as it would violate the Sultan's sovereignty. After agreeing to the prolongation of the mandates of the foreign civil agents, the note concludes: "If the powers increase the pressure in order to compel the acceptance of the control scheme, the Imperial government declines all responsibility for the consequences which may arise from the discontent among the public."

Creates Bad Impression

The latter part of the note, implying the possibility of massacres, has created a bad impression in diplomatic circles, where it is regarded as being a deliberate attempt to create artificial public excitement against financial reform, with the object of intimidating Europe. At the same time it is recognized that there is danger of trouble in Macedonia and that the powers ought to have forces in readiness to act promptly at the first sign of an outbreak.

The foreign representatives are considering the question of increasing the number of guardships here in order to protect citizens of their nationalities. Baron Marshall von Bieverslein, the German ambassador, has again urgently represented to the palace authorities the advisability of accepting the powers' demands and thus prevent disagreeable consequences.

Demonstration Proceeds

London, Nov. 24.—The foreign office informed the Associated Press today that the Porte having failed to accede to the demands of the powers, the naval demonstration will proceed. The affair is now in the hands of the naval commanders.

Lima, Peru, Nov. 24.—T. A. Bennett, the representative in Peru of several large American and English capitalists, died yesterday and was buried today.

Missoula, Mont., Nov. 24.—Daniel E. Bandmann, a Shakespearean actor of note and one of the best known residents of Montana, dropped dead at his ranch near here last night, of heart failure. He was 66 years old and was born in Cassel, Germany. He leaves a widow and family.

NEW YORK CONTEST.

Seven More Indictments by Grand Jury in Election Fraud Cases.

New York, Nov. 24.—Seven indictments in election cases were handed down today in Brooklyn by the grand jury. Two young men, Bernard J. McKenna and John White, who said they were lieutenants to a former assemblyman, Joseph Cahill, were indicted and pleaded guilty to charges of false registration. Mr. Cahill himself was indicted last Wednesday and held in $15,000 bail on charges of perjury and false registration. Edward Milan was indicted on a charge of bribery in the second assembly district. The other indictments were for false registration. The four election inspectors arrested last night for neglect of duty in the fifteen election district of the twenty-sixth assembly district in Manhattan pleaded not guilty today and were held in $2,500 bail each.

London Gossip By the Cable

British M. P. Says Loan to Canada Results in Business With India.

Professor Clapham of Leeds
University Opposed to Colonial Preference.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 24.—Walter Runciman, M. P., addressing a Liberal meeting at Liverpool said that it had been argued that a vast amount of the British capital which had been invested abroad might have been invested in England, so providing work for our own people, but he could prove it was more profitable for our working classes when it was invested abroad. Three millions were recently borrowed in England by Canada in payment for machinery from the United States for farmers. They must remember that Canada did not want golden sovereigns only on credit. The credit was transferred to the United States, who owed a good deal to Japan, Japan, in turn, wanted to buy cotton from India, but India did not want golden sovereigns. She had been buying goods from Lancashire direct, and so a loan to Canada resulted in the transference of three millions worth of Lancashire goods to India. Could they wonder that men whose economies were so loose as to say that the three millions were lost to us were protectionists?

Colonial Preference

Prof. Clapham, of Leeds university, a free trader, addressing a meeting of the Bradford Conservative club upon colonial preference, said an objection to the schemes was that it appealed only to the pockets of certain sections of the community in the colony, and that it only applied to certain colonies at all. He saw no reason to believe that the lumbermen of eastern Canada would derive any great satisfaction from the knowledge of the fact that the Manitoba wheat grower was given the preference. The scheme of preference would not work as a business arrangement unless it eventually extended to all foods and raw materials.

AGITATION IN JAPAN.

Tokio, Nov. 24.—The agitation against the government for its non-abrogation of martial law and its suppression of the liberties of the press is gaining strength. Many sympathizers with the opposition party can be found even among members of the house of peers.

SUITS AGAINST DIRECTORS.

Argument Commenced in New York in the Equitable Cases.

New York, Nov. 24.—Argument was begun on demurrers of the Equitable Life Assurance Society directors to the suits brought against them and against the company by State Attorney-General Meyer. The suits are to compel an accounting of the society's funds and to divide the surplus among the policy holders. They are brought in the supreme court against 31 directors. Speaking as counsel for all the directors who have intimated demurrers to these suits, Samuel Untermyer said that possibly the defendants might be open to an action at law for loss through negligence, but that there could not be any question of fraud and the attorney-general could have no standing in the matter.

Five Convicts Break Jail

Desperate Attempt of Prisoners to Secure Their Liberty at Jefferson City.

Kill Two Officials and Then Blow Open Gate With Dynamite.

Citizens Join Guards in Chase and Capture Fugitives
After Battle.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 24.—In a desperate attempt to escape from the state penitentiary today, five convicts fought for freedom with weapons and with nitro glycerine blew open the prison gates, killing two prison officers and wounding Deputy Warden Zee and the four men made a dash through the streets under fire to be captured only after two of the escaped men had been wounded. The five prisoners taking advantage of the absence of the warden, Hall and six of the guards, who left today with 71 federal prisoners for Fort Leavenworth, Kas., attempted to escape but only four left the prison after wrecking the gate. Convicts Harry Vance, Charles Raymond, Hiram Blake, George Ryan and Eli Zeigler, who were working close inside the prison gate having secured pistols and a bottle of nitro glycerine, entered Deputy Warden R. E. Zee's office and shot him in the arm and the hip as he sat in a chair. He slunk back helpless and the convicts rushed to the gate where they met Gatekeeper John Clay, who being alarmed by the shots opened the gate to look inside. Before Clay could raise his weapon he was shot dead. Then as if to that an attempt to escape had been started, the convicts rang the gate bell and rushed through the gate, dragging Clay's body with them. They slammed the gate shut and fastened it while Zeigler was ringing the bell and he was left inside.

The four convicts were then in the wagon entrance to the penitentiary. This entrance is 40 feet long and 15 feet wide. It leads to the public street through a second double gate of steel which was locked. The convicts placed nitro glycerine under the outside gate and blew an opening through the steel doors. One four men crawled through this aperture and dashed through several "strut" convicts, who were working in the street.

Almost before the four had covered a block, prison officers were in pursuit, shooting as they ran. Pedestrians jumped behind trees, ran into houses and crouched down on the sidewalks of the presented refuge. Several men seized weapons and in the pursuit. The chase kept on for a dozen blocks, the convicts outrunning their pursuers.

Near the Missouri Pacific Railway depot, the convicts came up with a wagon driven by Orville Lane. Jumping into the wagon the desperadoes seized Lane and used him as a shield from the bullets of their pursuers. One convict lashed the horse into a run and escape seemed sure, when suddenly a squad of city policemen and armed citizens appeared in front of the fleeing men, who stopped the horse and made a desperate stand. Lane was thrown to the bottom of the wagon and crouching over him, shielding themselves as well as possible behind the sides of the vehicle, the four convicts fought the policemen.

A Fusillade of Shots

Volley after volley was fired in the street by both sides to the conflict, while residents and pedestrians fled to escape stray bullets. The policemen, sheltering themselves behind trees, splintered the wagon and ploughed through mud, finally putting a bullet through Vaughn and Blake, the latter falling to the ground, probably fatally hurt. Then the convicts surrendered.

Convict Harry Vance was sentenced from St. Louis for 35 years for robbery, after a street fight in which he and another companion shot three detectives to death. Raymond and Blake are serving three years each for burglary. George Ryan is in jail, is serving eight years for robbery while Eli Zeigler is under sentence of three years for robbing bodies at a railroad wreck.

ANOTHER UNDER FIRE.

Springfield, Nov. 24.—President John A. Hall of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company of this city has been requested to appear early in December before the insurance investigation committee now sitting in New York and to furnish a detailed statement of the company's business.

SUICIDE AT VANCOUVER.

Well Known Photo-Engraver Takes Cyanide of Potassium.

Vancouver, Nov. 24.—(Special.)—A coroner's jury returned a verdict of "death from administration of poison by his own hand" in the case of the sudden death of S. Angel, the well-known photo-engraver. His brother gave evidence that he had threatened suicide and was worrying much over business. On the day of his death, however, the Colonist, with whom he had business relations, had promptly ignored his draft. He had collected other money and appeared very contented. At 6 he came to his office, stepped into the room where he kept the poison, and stepping out again said to his assistants, "I have taken cyanide of potassium. I have tried for three years to make a living and can't."

A Theatrical Squall

Carl Berch, who has conducted a profitable business at the People's theatre for two years, resisted the attempt at forcible possession made by W. H. Lucas, one of the owners of the theatre, last night. Lucas and his assistants attempted to enter by a window and a revolver was fired by those in possession. Lucas was arrested on a charge of burglary and was built out. An interim injunction has been granted restraining Lucas from further attempt until a trial can take place.

Sofia, Nov. 24.—All the revolutionary bands in Macedonia have reached an agreement to work together for the autonomy of Macedonia. THE RUSSIAN REFORMS.

Former U. S. Ambassador Speaks of Witte's Great Task.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Dr. Andrew D. White, former ambassador to Russia, tonight spoke before the Cornell Cosmopolitan club upon the prospects of "Constitutional Liberty in Russia." He said Count Witte has two great obstacles in his task of reform—the lack of universal education to fit Russians for suffrage and the censorship placed on public discussion of all kinds by the government.

"From my personal experience," continued Dr. White, "Count Witte is a fair, broad-minded, liberal man of great ability. The truth is that all parties have been scared into his support. When order is restored I think it will come in the form of autocracy, perhaps stronger than ever, but it may be with a few reforms. The army and autocracy will restore order and this may be the great danger that threatens Russia in its state of ignorance. I hope that as broad a suffrage will be introduced as the autocracy and the educated Russians so fit, but there will still be the illusion rather than revolution in Russia. I hope that the Czar will become a figurehead in a constitutional government with a parliament. If this is done Russia has a good prospect of again becoming a world power."

How "Velvet" Was Divided

Profits of Syndicate Operations Diverted From Insurance Companies.

The Policyholders' Money Stood Risks and Officials Took Proceeds.

New York, Nov. 24.—Starting developments were brought out at today's session of the Armstrong committee on insurance investigation, in the course of a minute enquiry by Charles E. Hughes, counsel to the committee, into the syndicate transactions participated in by the New York Life Insurance Company. The most important witness of the day was Walton Madison, bookkeeper of the New York Life Insurance Company, during whose examination it was brought out that in the case of the United States Corporation syndicate, the managers of which were J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., there appeared in one insurance a profit due to the New York Life of $87,187, from which was deducted, no reason being given, the sum of $59,310 paid to Andrew Hamilton, who has been described in the course of the investigation as "The Insurance Executive General" It appeared from records produced by Mr. Hughes that an account of J. P. Morgan & Co. with Hamilton showed that in December, 1901, that firm had advanced to Hamilton the sum of $55,720; that on October 14, 1902, the account amounted with interest to $59,310; and that it was then cancelled by the entry of that amount to Hamilton's credit. The entry of this amount in the account of the New York Life read: "Per cancelled statement and arrangement with Mr. C. W. Perkins."

It also developed that the participation in the syndicate of the New York Life was executed through the New York Security and Trust Company, in which one-fourth of the profits of the former were retained.

Perkins' Share of "Velvet" Pressed by Mr. Hughes to tell whether he knew of any other instance of money due the New York Life being paid to a third party, Mr. Madison recalled the payment in 1904 of $40,000 to W. C. Perkins representing the profit on a loan of $300,000 to the Boston firm of Kidder, Peabody & Co. The profit, witness said, came in the form of a check on the First National Bank, which he cashed, and he gave the money to Mr. Perkins. What the latter did with it the witness did not know. No entry of the transaction was made on the books of the New York Life. Other witnesses examined during the day were George T. Wilson, fourth vice president of the Equitable; Francis W. Jackson, auditor; and Gerald Brown, in charge of the bond department of the Equitable.

Rental Grafts Revealed Gerard R. Brown of the Equitable Life Assurance Society was the first witness called by the insurance investigation committee today. Mr. Brown produced a list of the tenants of the Equitable building at 110 Broadway. Mr. Hughes looked the list over and then asked the witness if he thought the rentals adequate. Mr. Brown replied that he considered the rentals of the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company inadequate. He also thought that the Equitable Trust Company rental of $20,000 a year was inadequate.

"What would you consider a proper rental for the Equitable Trust Company?" asked Mr. Hughes. "About $30,000," answered the witness. Mr. Brown said the matter of the rental of the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company and of the Equitable Trust Company had been considered.

MURDERER'S CONFESSION.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24.—The police believe they have a complete case against the missing John Hammond, the 21-year-old carpenter, the body of whose 57-year-old wife was found yesterday huddled and decomposing in an old trunk in their flat on South Ferry street. James Maguire, of Cohoes, the husband of Hammond's sister, was taken into custody today and brought to Albany, and he has confessed to the police of both cities that on Tuesday, November 14th, two days or more after the murder must have been committed, he accompanied Hammond from Cohoes to Rome's Point, and that on the journey Hammond, who, he says, was in a condition bordering on nervous collapse, told him that he had killed his wife and hid her body in a trunk. Maguire is being held both as a witness and as an accessory after the fact of the murder. He says also that Hammond made a like confession on the 15th to an uncle at Rome's Point.

The police say they are confident that Hammond is in or near Montreal, and that he will be arrested soon. Albany detectives are in Canada searching for him.

RATIFICATIONS OF PEACE.

Delay in Exchange Caused by a Slight Hitch in Translations.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 24.—The hitch in the exchange of final ratifications of the peace treaty is explained here as being due to the omission of three words in the French and English texts and a slight discrepancy in the translation of a phrase in one of the articles.

Russia does not regard the matter as material. Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador at Washington, had authority to sign, but Japan raised objections. The Russian charge d'affaires at Peking will proceed to Tokyo, but pending the arrival of the chiefs of the mission at Tokyo and St. Petersburg, all diplomatic matters of importance between the two countries will be adjusted by Baron Komura and M. Pokotiloff at Peking.

Russian advices from Peking regarding the China-Japanese negotiations regarding Manchuria indicate that Japan does not desire to relinquish her influence in the Chinese administration of the northern province, insisting on the appointment of a fiscal adviser to the Chinese governor of Mukden.

No Sign of Resignation Follows Meeting of the Ministry Yesterday.

Indication That the Premier's Views Favor Immediate Retirement.

London, Nov. 25.—The Times this morning says it is thought in well-informed political circles that after a careful consideration of existing conditions Premier Balfour will be confirmed in his view that he can no longer hold office with advantage to the country or with credit to himself and therefore he will resign. Yesterday's cabinet meeting, which, although not originally summoned for the purpose, had to decide the question of the resigning or temporary prolongation of the retention of office by the Balfour ministry, was attended by all the members with the exception of the Marquis of Salisbury, president of the board of trade. All doubt as to whether or not the Marquis of Londonderry had consented to remain in the cabinet was dispelled by a statement from the minister himself to the effect that he had not resigned.

No Resignation at Present It is officially intimated that no statement regarding the decision of the cabinet will be issued by the ministers, but the fact that Mr. Balfour leaves London tonight until Monday, and the addition of Mr. Balfour to the cabinet to Sandringham to see the King is taken as confirmation of the understanding that the premier and his colleagues have decided against precipitate resignation.

The session of the cabinet broke up soon after 2 o'clock in the afternoon, after a session of hours' deliberation. It is understood that proposals for the collective resignation of the cabinet was rejected and that the ministers arrived at the decision that it would be better to dissolve parliament themselves and appeal to the electors. Should this course be followed it will largely be due to the well-grounded belief that the Liberals would decline to form a cabinet before a general election places them in the presence of an adequate parliamentary majority to carry out the Liberal programme.

HEROIC RESCUERS.

Life Savers Do Noble Work During a Terrific Storm on Lake Michigan.

Holland, Mich., Nov. 24.—During a terrific storm on Lake Michigan last night, the steamer Argo of the Graham and Morton passenger fleet went aground on a sandbar north of the north pier. All efforts to release her have up to this time been futile, owing to the heavy sea which is running. It is impossible for the life-saving crew to reach the steamer, and the passengers and crew may be taken off in the breeches buoy.

At 1 o'clock the cable used to haul the breeches buoy parted, fortunately while the buoy was being hauled back to the steamer for another passenger. At the time this accident occurred there were seven passengers and the crew of 22 men remaining on the Argo. The life-saving crew, when their buoy line broke, realized the peril of the situation and again took up their surf boat in a desperate effort to reach the steamer. The sea is running mountain high and it is not thought the life-savers will succeed.

Life Savers to the Rescue. The Argo had a rough passage across Lake Michigan last night and treacherous seas were rolling when the steamer arrived off Holland light at 4 o'clock today. Capt. Stewart approached the harbor mouth as usual, when, just as she was entering the piers a great sea struck the Argo and hurled her against the north pier, carrying a portion of it away. The steamer was carried along the crest of the wave until she went aground on a sand bar 1,500 feet north of the pier. As soon as the lookout at the life saving station in the harbor saw that the Argo was in trouble, he turned in the alarm and the crew immediately put out in their surf boat, fighting the powerful head wind and enormous seas. The life savers after herculean efforts succeeded in pulling their boat to the harbor mouth, but the seas were so high that it was impossible to reach the side of the Argo. The crew then returned to shore and dragged their cannon and manager of the La Plata mining company was down from the Molly Gibson today and reported that the new concentrator building was now completed and that nothing remained to be done except the installation of machinery, which would be proceeded with forthwith. Captain Tretloway declined to state when the machinery would be ready to turn over, as the position of the property makes transportation difficult in the event of bad weather. During the month, five carloads of ore have been shipped to the Hall mines smelter averaging over sixty ounces of silver and a good percentage of galena, quite sufficient to pay for the development work now in progress in the mine. No ore is being taken out except that encountered in development work. As soon as the concentrator is ready stopping will be started and Captain Tretloway is assured that the ore from the new vein of seven width recently exploited will be sufficient to ensure a handsome profit to the shareholders.

MOLLY GIBSON MINE.
Manager of La Plata Co. Reports Good Progress on Concentrator.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION.
Senator Foraker Presents Proposed Amendments to U. S. Laws.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Senator Foraker today presented to the committee on interstate commerce a draft of his bill to amend the interstate commerce law. He explained that he had tried to meet the complaint against present railroad legislation and at the same time avoid conferring upon the interstate commerce commission or any similar body the power over railroad rates.

The Foraker bill, however, provides for enjoining the publishing and charging of excessive rates, for Enjoining Any Discriminations forbidden by law, whether as between shippers, places, commodities or otherwise and whether affected by means of rates, rebates, classifications, private cars, preferentials "or in any other manner which may be deemed to be unjust or unreasonable."

While this does not confer upon the court the power to fix a rate it does authorize the court to say what is an unlawful rate and how much is unlawful and to enjoin the carrier from charging with more power over haul.

The bill is also designed to prohibit the giving of passes, to allow free access to railroad documents and to meet complaints as to railroad rates on export and import freight.

Aorangi From The Antipodes

Brings News That First Turbine on the Pacific Will Soon Be Here.

Canadian-Australian Liner Had Unadventful Voyage—Deserters on Raft.

The first turbine liner on the Pacific ocean, the Maheeno of the United Steamship Company, will leave Sydney in March on her first trip to Victoria in the Canadian-Australian service, according to a statement issued at Sydney before the steamer Aorangi sailed for Victoria. Capt. Phillips, of the Aorangi, said on arrival yesterday that the steamer will run to Victoria instead of the Moana, making two trips next summer, one in March and one in June. The Maheeno, which was built by W. Denny & Bros. of Dumbarton, attained a speed of 17½ knots on her trial trip. She is a 4,000-ton steamer, with passenger accommodations in keeping with modern needs. The steamer left Glasgow on October 3 for Melbourne, via Durban.

The Aorangi had an uneventful trip until, when nearing Victoria on Tuesday last, she ran into a strong northerly gale with a high sea, which swept the steamer's decks and smashed a port, flooding the saloon. The Aorangi left Sydney on October 30 and Brisbane two days later, arrived at Suva on November 6 and went to Nava to load 1,200 tons of raw sugar for the B. C. Sugar Refinery at Vancouver. She reached Honolulu November 16 and left for Victoria, B.C., the same day, passing R. M. S. Miowera on November 17 at 11 p. m. and R. M. S. Moana on the 17th at 2:30 p. m. The Aorangi has a full cargo for Vancouver and inland points. She was delayed considerably at Suva and Nava owing to the bad weather and heavy rains which prevailed during the loading of 1,200 tons of sugar. Fine weather and fresh winds were met with from Honolulu until the 22nd and 23rd inst., when, nearing the coast, the Aorangi was further delayed by a strong northerly gale and high sea. She entered the straits at 9:20 a. m. yesterday and arrived at the outer wharf at 2 p. m. After discharging her local cargo she left for Vancouver at 8 p. m.

The cargo of the Australian liner was made up as follows: For Victoria—Twelve barrels of coconut oil, 18,698 feet timber (Australian hardwood) and two cases of fly roots. For Vancouver and inland—Twenty cases "Sawyer" soap, 106 barrels coconut oil, 4 cases Hamilton, 102 bales wool, 1 case pelts, 17 bales leather, 45 cases pineapples, 12,052 bags sugar, 36,220 feet Australian hardwood, 25 cases meats, 107 bales fur skins, 217 bales skins (hides), 206 bales flax, 4 cases bacon, 7 bags cocoa and 20 packages general cargo.

The passengers for Victoria were: Prince Kihio Kalanipano, W. B. Rogers, A. H. Russell, B. Hamilton, F. H. Fawcett, S. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Olsson and family, I. S. Bryano, C. A. Brun, J. Holland, A. Mathe, G. Spurvey, E. J. Hardy, A. Monro, Mrs. C. E. Fouldes, Mrs. Sattler and family, H. G. Thayer, C. H. Bishop, J. A. Lyle.

Miss Mele Akamui and 38 Japanese. There were 28 passengers for Vancouver.

THREATENED BY BLACKS.

Shipwrecked Crew of Bark Susquehanna Menaced by Solomons.

Details of the loss of the American ship Susquehanna, bound from New Caledonia to Delaware Breaker and abandoned in a sinking condition off the Solomon Islands, show that Capt. Watts and his crew had a narrow escape from massacre by blacks on the Solomon Islands because of a belief that an ex-chieftain, whose home was occupied by the shipwrecked Americans, had died because of their presence.

The steamer Aorangi reports that Capt. Watts, interviewed before her departure, said the vessel began to break soon after leaving Noumea, when she ran into a gale, and the pumps, being unable to keep her free, she ordered boats lowered and all made for San Cristoval, in the Solomon Islands, 500 miles away, which was reached in five days and five nights in open boats. Mrs. Elwell, an American lady, who was a passenger with her husband, suffered privations with the seamen and was much admired for her pluck. The mate's boat landed at Santa Anna, where the blacks were menacing. The day following the arrival of the shipwrecked men the ex-chieftain died, and his son blamed his death to the presence of the sailors in the hut. They moved to another hut, which was attacked by the natives, and they escaped to their boat in the night. Next day they were picked up by the trading schooner Aola and taken to San Cristoval, where the other shipwrecked seamen were found.

DESSERTERS ON A RAFT.

The steamer Aorangi from Australia brought news of the desertion of three of the crew of the bark Jordanhill, which had arrived at Sydney from Hongkong under exciting circumstances. The three men, Gilbert Kennedy, an apprentice, who was a grandson of the Marquis of Ailsa, and Wilhelm Schute and Karl Vollet, seamen, made a raft of two pieces of board ten feet long when the bark was twenty miles from Sandalwood island in the Celebes and launched the raft from the stern of the vessel. They took shovels to dig for coals and food. The three men are believed to have drowned. Capt. Kennedy sent men aloft with glasses, but they failed to sight the missing raft.

COLLIERY DISASTER.

News was received by the steamer Aorangi from Australia of the destruction of the large collieries of Stanfords-Merthyr by an explosion followed by fire, killing five men, including H. J. Adams, a director, and injuring nine. Four hundred men were in the mine at the time. Mr. Adams, with General Manager Thomas of the East Greta collieries, was making an inspection when a small explosion occurred. He said: "Thank God no lives were lost." Immediately a heavy explosion followed, killing him and injuring Thomas. The bodies of the dead were torn and mangled and heart-rending scenes were witnessed.

CENTENNIAL EN ROUTE.

Bringing a Cargo of Sulphur from Japan to Victoria.

The steamer Centennial, formerly a P. & O. liner, which was recently captured by a Japanese warship when en route from San Francisco to Nicolaieff with a cargo and released when the Emperor extended clemency to those vessels taken after the treaty of peace was signed, is now enroute to Victoria from Japan with a cargo of sulphur. After discharging her sulphur cargo the Centennial will proceed to Seattle and will run between the Puget Sound port and San Francisco as the service of the Class Nelson line, which carries freight in opposition to the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's San Francisco service. The Centennial first came to this port during the Klondike rush. She is 46 years old, having been built in 1859 on the Thames. She was then the Delta and later became known as the Japanese steamer Takasago Maru. Capt. Thompson, now master of the Japanese liner Iyo Maru, was master of the steamer when she made her first trip here.

JOINT SCHEDULE.

January 20—American steamer Lya.
February 1—American steamer Minnesota.
February 10—American steamer Pleiades.
February 15—British steamer Telemachus.
February 20—Japanese steamer Iyo Maru.
March 3—American steamer Shawmut.
March 12—American steamer Dakota.
March 15—British steamer Ningbohov.

TYDEUS SAILS.

Freighter Carried a Large Amount of Salmon.

The steamer Tydeus, of the Ocean Steamship Company, Capt. Jackson, arrived at the outer dock yesterday from Seattle to complete her cargo for Liverpool, London and Oriental ports to be embarked on her route. On board she carried a number of Chinese passengers. The Tydeus has on board a very large amount of canned salmon shipped at Victoria and Vancouver, having about 8,000 tons of freight when she sailed from the outer dock on her long voyage last night.

MARINE NOTES.

Officers of the Alaska Steamship Company held their monthly meeting at Seattle Wednesday. Among the subjects discussed were the new steamers which Walter Oaks, president of the Alaska Steamship Company, is now building at New York.

Frank E. Burns, superintendent of the company, stated that nothing definite had as yet been heard from Mr. Oaks, but that there was no doubt that the new vessels would be in every sense. When they arrive they will be placed on the Sound runs. With these two new vessels and the Indianapolis we will be able to place steamers on practically all the Sound runs. By next summer we expect to be in a position to offer the traveling public a fine service.

Commencing March 15, the Northwestern Steamship company will place three fast steamers on the run between Seattle and Seward, Alaska. These steamers will make the trip by the outside route, making sailings every eight days and on the way north will make no stops between this city and Seward. Returning, they will make the trip by the way of Valdez.

British ship Travancore lost an anchor and 25 fathoms of chain by dropping her anchor in 50 fathoms of water at Smith's Cove.

Steamer Minnesota arrived at Yokohama Wednesday, 16 days from Seattle. The Seattle Star, quoting J. J. Hill, says: "We will not build a new dock at Smith's Cove. The only thing we would have done at the Cove in this line, would have been the construction of a dock by which the boats could be worked on at both sides at the same time. This, however, is impossible at Smith's Cove and therefore we will not build any more docks there."

At Seattle on Thursday a meeting of the Alaska Steamship Association, including representatives of all lines, running north, was held to discuss preliminary action with regard to a new agreement for through rates with the White Pass and Yukon Railway. The steamship agents seek to secure a better rate for their part of the haul.

Steamer City of Seattle has completed an overhaul on Moran's ways. She will return to the northern service in the spring.

K. of P. Meeting.—Far West lodge, Knights of Pythias, at the regular meeting last night elected the following officers: C. C. C. H. Merkle; V. C. Dr. A. A. Humber; prelate, H. W. Murray; M. of W. Phil R. Smith; M. of E. S. L. Rodgers; M. of F. W. P. Smith; K. of R. and S. Herry Weber; M. at A. H. E. Caldwell; I. G. A. J. Cooksey; O. G. J. W. Elliott. The officers will be installed at the public installation of officers on the first Friday in January, 1906.

Agricultural Implements.—The dispute which arose between Massey, Harris & Co., of Toronto, and the Australian government with regard to the alleged undervaluing of agricultural implements is now before the courts of New South Wales. A recent issue of the Sydney Morning Herald says: the writ which was issued at the instance of the Massey-Harris Co. has been received by the federal attorney-general. It is probable that it will come up before the court in any form until perhaps December, but it is understood that application will be made before the trial for commissions to examine witnesses in Canada, Italy and Argentina.

Preferential Trade.—The Sydney Morning Herald of October 20th says: The communication from the Canadian government on the subject of preferential trade relations between the two countries has been referred to the customs department for report, and the government will not take the matter into consideration until that report is received. Ministers desire a good deal of information as to the class of trade between the two countries, what are our imports from there, and what our exports thither. It is significant that last year Canadian exports to Australia were valued at $222,000, while our exports in return were valued at only $29,000. On the showing of these figures all the advantage of preferential trade would lie with Canada.

We gave it to the children when they went to bed, and they slept all night. It cured them completely. I shall always keep it in the house."

Excursions Arranged.—A special Winnipeg despatch says: Winnipeg and Manitoba residents in large numbers hope to spend three months of the coming winter in the milder climate of British Columbia, and quite a few will settle in the Pacific province, either to engage in fruit farming or to pursue lines of agriculture in which they have made money in Manitoba. The movement toward British Columbia has been very marked during the past year, and on December 1, 2, 15, 16 and on January 5 and 6 special excursion trains are to be run by the C. P. R. from Winnipeg to Vancouver. Kamloops and all parts of the Okanagan at about single fare. It is anticipated that the rush westward will be heavy, as many people are anxious to get away from the severe winter and having made money here would like to settle down in a more genial climate to spend their declining years.

ST. CHARLES EVAPORATED CREAM
For many things in cookery, St. Charles Cream is an essential. It is as good as the best milk or cream for any purpose. For many purposes it is much better. It gives to coffee, for instance, a flavor which even the best of ordinary cream cannot approach, and it aids in bringing out the delicate aroma of chocolate and cocoa. For confection and ice cream it is unexcelled. For invalids and infants it is indispensable. It never curdles. It strengthens the stomach. If only pure water is added it will agree with the most delicate stomach.
Sold by best grocers everywhere.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN GREAT BRITAIN.

From the nature of the press despatches during the past few days it appears highly probable that Premier Balfour will shortly resign the reins of office. This, coming upon his Manchester speech just recently, would seem to indicate that he has been unable to bring about a reconciliation of differences among his followers, which in the interests of the country he deplored on that occasion. He has chosen the course that was inevitable. It is far better to resign now than to suffer defeat in the House of Commons at its next session.

Political conditions are more favorable now for an appeal to the country than they have been for some time or they are likely to be again for some time to come. The government's foreign policy is popular with the people, and to a very large extent the government has regained lost prestige. Interest is keen in regard to matters of Imperial relations, a subject very much discussed now, and we shall have a campaign in which such issues will be very prominent.

Chamberlain, who has introduced a rather definite phase of Imperialism, which involves a measure of protection as in favor of the colonies, will undoubtedly be the determining issue of the fight. There is a large and important element of Imperialists not definitely pledged to his programme, who will be on his side, or rather on the side of opposition to the Liberals. Chamberlain stands for Imperialism, and in the campaign to follow the retirement of Mr. Balfour it is wholly possible that the preferential tariff scheme will only be an incidental feature of it. There are other large issues that may be introduced as well, such as an all-Imperial cable, an Imperial council, and a universal postage scheme, as is advocated by Mr. Heaton. Closer relations of the different parts of the Empire, mutual co-operation for the purposes of development, the consolidation of the sentiment of the Empire by a wide intelligence service—these are some of the things to obtain on which all wings of the Imperialists can unite.

Fortune seems to favor an imperial campaign of the kind indicated. It is announced that the leader of the Liberals will definitely commit himself to a measure of Home Rule for Ireland. Whether that will secure the support of the Irish members remains to be seen, but it will certainly bring about a serious cleavage in the Liberal party and will estrange the members of the Unionists' party, that might have been inclined to support, and probably would have supported, the Liberals in opposition to the Chamberlain programme. They may prefer to support the party that will be led by Mr. Balfour, with its taint of protection heresy, to forming a separate wing of the opposition. Nothing could have helped Mr. Balfour so much at this juncture as a pronouncement by Mr. Campbell-Bannerman of the nature referred to. As a choice between two evils there are hundreds of thousands in Great Britain who will prefer to go with Chamberlain, with his preferential tariff scheme, to following the Liberal with Home Rule for Ireland as his goal.

Prices for silver bullion, says Bradstreet, have been strengthening of late in a quiet way without attracting much attention, although the movement has naturally been attended by more or less speculation in the London market. The present week, however, brought with it increased activity in the metal and a further rise in the quotations, which reached 29 11-16d. per ounce in London and 64 1/2 cents in New York for commercial bars. These figures are notable, as they are the highest which have been recorded in the silver markets here or abroad since the year 1900, when the prices touched 30 3-16d. and 64 cents respectively. It would seem that the demand from the east has been large and steady of late and that the rise is due mainly to this cause, being, in fact, an entirely legitimate movement. An interesting question has also arisen as to whether the Mexican government will not take advantage of the situation to sell at least a part of its silver reserve carried against note circulation and thus provide a gold reserve.

FARMERS AND THE TARIFF COMMISSION.

It is known that the farming community of the Northwest is practically as a unit against increasing the duties on imported products, and many of them are in favor of reduction. Such things as enter largely into the daily use and consumption of the farmers, as agricultural implements, lumber, binding twine and fruit, they would prefer to see on the free list altogether. This is natural; but as we have in Canada a combination of interests that make up the Dominion as a whole, the interests of any particular section of the country, however important, should not dominate the policy of the whole country. We cannot have a policy described as national, which considers the interests of the middle and ignores those of the ends.

A farmer appeared before the tariff commission in British Columbia, and a delegation of farmers appeared before the same body in the East, and from the representations made it might readily be assumed that the agricultural interests of other portions of the Dominion were favorable to a reduction in the tariff as well as those in the Northwest. The arguments in all the cases were practically the same—that there was no protection possible which could help the farmer, who is not threatened by competition from other countries, and consequently as a large consumer the farmer was getting the worst of the arrangement. In other words, he was taxed for the manufactured products which he bought from the Canadian manufacturer, while a protective tariff afforded him no particular benefits. On the face of it, the farmer who takes that position has a strong case.

We have had occasion to deal with arguments of that kind many times before, but we prefer calling in as an advocate a gentleman who has become an acknowledged authority on the question. We refer to Mr. Watson Griffin, who has written a great deal on it, and recently issued a third edition of a volume entitled "Protection and Prices and the Farmer's Home Market." Of this work over 150,000 copies have been issued. With reference to the statements made ostensibly on behalf of the farmers of Canada before the Tariff Commission, Mr. Griffin writes to the Toronto News at considerable length. The arguments adduced in this important contribution to the discussion can be summarized very briefly. In a word, the protection afforded to the farmer by a protective tariff is in this case indirect rather than direct. Stated in another way, the development of the home market created by industrial prosperity is of great value to the farmer. It is his nearest and most profitable market. Without the protection to the manufacturer necessary to maintain industries and large home consumption the farmer would have to seek a foreign market for a large portion of what he now sells so readily at a high margin of profit. It is an old argument; but Mr. Griffin makes a new statement of the case, plentifully supported by figures.

Mr. Griffin admits that the men who appeared in behalf of the Farmers' Association in the East before the Tariff Commission presented their case very cleverly, but their statements, he says, will not bear investigation. He goes on to say that the association in question represents only a very small proportion of the farmers of Canada. The men who control it, he alleges, were prominently identified with the unrestricted reciprocity agitation a few years ago, and although that policy was never favored by the majority of Canadian farmers and is now very unpopular with nine-tenths of the Canadian people of both political parties, these men still cling to it. Other delegations have gone before the commission and advocated higher duties, and before the commission has completed its work Mr. Griffin thinks that members of the commission will be convinced that the farmers in general throughout the country take a different view from the leaders of the Farmers' Association, who claim that protection is no use to farming interests.

It is stated that the arguments of representatives of the association are based on two false assumptions: First, that the full protective duty or the greater part of it is added to the price of an article protected; and, second, that it is of no benefit to the farmers to have manufacturers in the country. Now, comparison of the prices of a large number of commodities in the United States, Canada and England for a long period of years will show that the duty is not in many cases added to the price of the article, especially if it is manufactured at home. Frequently the American manufacturer cuts his price to meet the duty, and thus the duty is wholly eliminated. But, of course, that is not a condition that can be predicated about confidently in all cases.

The proof of the value of the home market, however, is shown by the figures of production and consumption of agricultural products in Canada. The government reports show that Ontario and the Northwest in recent years produced two and a half times as much wheat, twenty-five times as much oats, and thirty-four times as much barley as all Canada exported. The home market consumed sixty-two times as many Canadian potatoes as the foreign market; Ontario alone produced thirty-one times as many barrels of apples as were exported from the whole of the Dominion; and figures of production of other crops are equally remarkable.

Mr. Griffin puts the case very strongly too. If the Canadian farmer could always get for his produce the price that the distant consumer pays for them, he would soon grow rich. The difference between the price the farmer gets and the price the consumer pays is partly made up of transportation charges and partly of middlemen's profits. The farther the market is away from the farm the greater the cost of transportation charges and the larger the number of middlemen there are to share the profits. If there were no home markets the farmers would be at the mercy of the middlemen. We can easily illustrate the same principle in a small way. A farmer living within two or three miles of a city, say of Victoria, has a decided advantage over the man who lives fifteen or thirty miles away, say in Saanich or Cowichan. The difference of distance makes all the difference in profits, varying from $10 to $100 an acre, and his land has several times the value. It is the nearness of the home market that is the factor. On the wider national scale the same principle applies.

Mr. Griffin gives columns of figures to prove his contention, which it is unnecessary to refer to here. They are all taken from official returns. The point is that the farmers, even though they derive no immediate benefit from the duties placed upon agricultural produce, are indirectly greatly benefited by the home market developed through the industries created as the result of a system of judicious protection.

The Colonist confesses to having been guilty of a political "faux pas." By some which at this present moment we are not capable of explaining, we arrived at the conclusion that it was the Liberal candidate that had been censured in Wentworth, although we read all about the election trial at the time. It probably arose from the frequency with which Liberals had been losing their seats in that province. The fact that it was the Conservative who lost his seat and was re-elected the other day does not greatly alter the moral which we wished to point out in our remarks yesterday. It is very much harder to elect an opponent of the government at a bye-election than at a general election, and the return of Mr. Smith is a big feather in the cap of the Opposition leader, who took a prominent part in the fight. There is very little in the result of the bye-elections to bring consolation to the government at Ottawa. If they are pleased it is because they are "glad to be alive," when they deserve an entirely different fate.

SUCCESS IN ADVERTISING

Success of the Small Advertiser—It is Not Overshadowed by the Large Advertiser—His Chances of Success Are Equally as Good.

(Written for The Colonist by Allen West.) (Chapter 8.)

If I were to say that there is not enormous force in the largeness and the systemization of the great departmental stores, I would be stating an untruth. Equally so would I be stating something not true were I not to recognize the opportunity for the small advertiser.

What do you read most and easiest in a newspaper? The small items—the paragraphs. When I was asked to take the city editorship of one of the Eastern papers years ago, the proprietor said: "We expect you to get up a column of short items every day. People judge us by them. If we have over a column we have plenty of news. If less than a column, we have fallen short. No matter how much other news we have, we fail to make the right impression if we are short on items."

Schillings' Tea some years ago began advertising on the Coast with small items—and succeeded.

Evans of Philadelphia—a druggist—has built a big business through half inch ads. Macbeth, the lamp chimney man, has the biggest chimney business in the world, they say, and through small ads—usually about ten words.

There is Fascination in Brevity Advertising

A Broadway hotel in New York city got a great trade through little ads on the front page of one newspaper—each ad saying something new about the hotel and its table. They fairly made one's mouth water with brief description of the way to broil a steak on both sides at once and serve hot with baked potatoes.

Little stories by M. Quad made the Detroit Free Press years ago such a success that it sold on every news stand in the world. Let an advertiser ponder these things and then study his local newspaper.

Note the Columns of the Colonist

Take any issue of The Colonist and you'll see little ads and little paragraphs that will catch the eye and stick in the mind. The Washington (D. C.) Star has a column of what it calls special notices. They consist of brief advertisements by local advertisers.

A premium is placed upon frequent change of copy by placing the latest ad to come in at top of column. And that column is read so thoroughly that every advertiser in it told for it paid him—paid him well. For instance, a printer—Adams—who advertises never to disappoint, but always to deliver his printing when agreed, says his big business was built by that column, his little ad changed as often as once a week at least, bringing him customer after customer.

In that city there are seventy-five or a hundred advertisers who use small space with most profitable results.

This is logical.

People Search the Want Columns Carefully

We want the newspapers to present fully what is for sale.

We want the newspapers to be complete.

The more small ads they print the better we like it.

Observe how people search the want columns of newspapers.

That is proof enough of the success that may be obtained through small ads.

If it were not so obvious that many firms believe themselves too small to advertise I should not write this article.

Everywhere I meet men in business who say:

"Oh, I am too small to advertise. I can't buy space to compete with my big friend who employs lots of clerks and has ten times my floor space, and who has so much newspaper advertising that my ad would be lost in comparison with him."

False philosophy—Chances are you have a specialty that you could successfully advertise.

If I Were a Locksmith I Would Advertise

If I were a locksmith I would advertise.

When a man wanted a key or a new lock I'd hope to have him think of me first by keeping my name before the public and telling briefly what is interesting about locksmithing.

Same were I a barber.

I would advertise special shaves with the multitude of superlatives that keep a man hypnotized in the chair for half an hour.

I would advertise a quick shave for the man who wants to be made clean-faced swiftly, and then do something else.

I'd advertise facts about hair restoring, Face-fixing, Nail-curing.

Same as Palmer of Montreal does, and has thereby built a big business.

Suppose You Have Some Good Butter

If I were in the milk or butter business I would centre public interest upon the purity of the product I was handling, and appetize people into feeling that they were not getting the best butter or the purest milk unless they were dealing with me.

—And that would be easy enough by common sense fact telling, backed by the goods.

Electrical specialism is another branch.

I know a Canadian who has built a big business in that.

So could a plumber who was ready day and night and had up-to-dateness sticking out all over his place and his methods.

Advertising argues up-to-dateness, and we find it usually behind the ad.

That's because the man who advertises has to have superiority of goods or prices, and he can easily get them when he has secured the trade to give him means to pay for them.

In every line there are things which are best and the public want them—and they get them from enterprising advertisers.

The Small Advertiser Can Grow as Big as He Wishes

Start small in advertising. Keep up with the procession, and you will shortly grow.

Suppose you start as the Corby Bakery of Washington did.

It baked all its bread on one oil stove. It called it "Mother's Bread."

It advertised it.

The demand increased rapidly.

It has reached millions of loaves annually.

It supports a big bakery, one of the best in the country, and the Corby bread-making machinery sells even in England.

A woman in Rochester sells a candy as a specialty and prospers.

A woman on the Coast sells olives—the Ehrmann olive—advertises them and prospers.

Olives and Pickles Prove the Point

Of course they are good olives—or she couldn't advertise them successfully.

Heinz pickles were once peddled in a basket.

TIRED OUT.

There's many a wife sits in the growing shadows of an evening, knowing what it is to feel tired out; as if there was not another ounce of effort left in her. But if healthy she knows how sound the morning will find her. But it's another thing for the sick woman to feel tired out. Rest only seems to increase her suffering. She feels acutely the aching back and throbbing nerves. Sick women, hundreds of thousands of them, have been made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

I am pleased to inform you of the benefit I received from using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and "Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Elizabeth A. Oswald, of 45 Brant Street, Windsor, Essex Co., Ontario, Canada. "Was quite discouraged when I wrote asking your advice, as the physicians here told me I could get no relief except by an operation. Suffered for four years from irregular and profuse menstruation, had sick and nervous headaches most of the time, and at times could hardly walk across the floor from weakness. I thank God there is such a remedy as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for suffering women. Before I had taken the first bottle the headaches had left me and it was not long before regularity was established and still continues so. Have just had house-cleaning which I never expected to be able to do again, and can truly say I never felt better than at present. I gladly recommend 'Favorite Prescription' to all who suffer from female weakness. It has cured me and made me stronger in every way. Nothing my husband nor myself can say enough in its praise."

The selfish seller who urges some substitute is thinking of the larger profit he'll make and not of your best good.

Advertising elevated them to a great world-famed industry.

What are you selling, Mr. or Mrs. Reader?

Wouldn't you sell more of it if people knew more about it?

—How good it is?

—How cheap it is?

—How perfect it is?

Small ads were invented to help you sell it.

And no matter how small the ad is, it will be circulated through The Colonist to just as many people as a big ad will.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

[The Editor does not hold himself responsible for views expressed by correspondents.]

A CHANGE OF ROAD.

Sir—I would like to call the attention of the Tourist Association and those of the city who go camping at Cordova Bay beach to the fact that the present government road is being removed to a point about forty-five yards further up the hill, and the intention is that the old government road and the picnic grounds are being fenced off and sold as lots by a few enterprising gentlemen. I would like to know if this can be done. Thanking you for your valuable space.

Local News

Sunday School Work.—Today a house, to house visitation will be made under the auspices of the Victoria branch of the International Sunday School Association. Cards will be left at each residence for collecting date in connection with the propaganda.

Presbyterian Social.—On Monday evening next, in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Young People's Guild, a very fine social will be held. A good programme has been prepared for occasion and a pleasant time is guaranteed to all attending.

Tram Improvement.—Within the last few weeks the B. C. Electric Railway Company have had the greater number of their cars which are in operation in this city fitted with a patent seat for the motorist. The seat is fashioned after the pattern of the bicycle seat and is very handy and relieves the motorist from the continual strain of always being on his feet.

Indian Killed.—Word has been received via Vancouver, of the death at Hardy Bay on Sunday evening last, of an Indian, named, according to word was shot and killed. Word was received at Alert Bay on Monday by Provincial Constable Wallace, and an inquest was held. The Indian was shot through the back, and the killing is supposed to have occurred while the Indians were out pit lamping.

Message of Congratulation.—T. W. Patterson, president of the board of trade has forwarded the following explanatory message to D. D. Mann, vice president of the Canada Northern Railway, Edmonton: "Please accept the hearty congratulations of the Victoria, British Columbia, Board of Trade upon the opening of your line to Edmonton. In the near future we hope to have the pleasure of again congratulating you upon the completion of the Canadian Northern railway to a Pacific Coast terminus."

The Drug Merger.—Yesterday evening T. M. Henderson, of the firm of Henderson Bros., wholesale drug merchant, left for Montreal to attend the organization meeting for the big Canadian drug merger, the nature of which has already been fully described. Mr. Henderson will be accompanied from Vancouver by his brother, Wm. Henderson, and the two will represent their firm. This meeting will be of the incorporators of the merger, and will decide upon the necessary measures to bring the big combination of interests into existence. It will be held on December 7.

Victoria Musician Fraised.—The New Westminster correspondent of the Vancouver Province says: "An audience of over 300 persons gathered in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church last evening to hear the sacred concert given by a chorus of local voices and a number of soloists from Vancouver and Victoria. Mr. Jesse A. Longfield, of Victoria, who was the organ soloist, made a splendid impression, and his rendering of Wey's grand offertory in F, which was the opening number of the programme, was heartily enjoyed. Mr. Longfield also proved himself an artist as a viola soloist, and his rendering of Handel's Largo was greatly appreciated."

Touring the World.—As was mentioned in the personal column of the Colonist yesterday evening R. Loring and Mrs. Loring of Montreal passed through the city on their tour around the world. Mr. Loring is the Canadian representative of R. Hoe & Co., the celebrated press builders, of New York and London, and has been remarkably successful in selling up-to-date machines to the enterprising newspaper men of Canada, the World, Colonist and Times being among the number. Mr. and Mrs. Loring left on a world-circling trip. In Australia and New Zealand nine large printing machines were sold representing about $300,000. Mr. Loring says "Canadians do not seem to appreciate the possibilities of the Australian market. While impressed with the wonderful recuperative powers of Australia and its great resources as a mining and pastoral country, he returns more in love than ever with Canada."

Day of Intercession.—Wednesday, November 29 will be observed by the Church of England, both at home and abroad as a day of intercession for foreign missions. This annual day of united prayer has been observed since 1872, when the observance was commenced at the instance of the society for the propagation of the gospel. In that year the 20th of December was the special date, and all over England in specially cathedrals, venerable parish churches, and modest mission rooms, the united voice of prayer was heard. At that time foreign missions came in for a great deal more criticism than at present, and the London "Times" made a very bitter attack in a leader in which it questioned the existence of any large number of missionaries or converts. Lord Lawrence replied in his usual dignified but masterly manner, and Arch-Bishop Tait wrote to Mr. Delane, the editor, a letter of remonstrance, saying that "the article" must have been written by a very young man."

Civic Work.—With the completion of the permanent sidewalks, which have been under construction the greater part of the past summer, a large number of workmen have been thrown out of employment. At this season of the year, when there is not much work being done, some of these men are expecting to find it somewhat difficult to secure employment. The work on the sewers is expected to take the greater part of those who have been working on the sidewalks during the summer. The work on the extension of the sewerage system has been commenced, but as yet there is only a small portion of the unemployed taken on. Several details in connection with this work have yet to be settled, and it is not likely that a full complement will be taken on for a few days. With the settlement of these details it is expected that a large number of men will be put on, who will take full advantage of the good weather now prevailing.

Sealer Returning.—R. Findlay, the unlucky sealer captured on a Japanese schooner and taken a prisoner by Russians to a point in the interior of that country, has reached Winnipeg en route to his home in Victoria. The exciting experiences of Mr. Findlay have been already published.

Mr. Riddell also.—In the list of names mentioned in yesterday's issue of the Colonist as having donated to the candy stall at the Catholic bazaar an omission occurred which was unintentional. The name of Mr. Riddell should have been included.

McLennan-Urquhart.—The marriage of J. D. McLennan, of Revelstoke, to Miss Gertrude, daughter of Alex. Urquhart, Courtney, B. C., was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, at Nanaimo last night, by Rev. Mr. Menzies. The honeymoon is to be spent at Victoria and the Sound.

Cutting Fishermen's Nets.—Word from Nanaimo is to the effect that the police are looking for the culprits who for the past two nights have been cutting fishermen's nets with the evident intent of crippling the industry. The Nanaimo Fisheries Company for the second time had one of its nets slashed to pieces last night.

E. & N. Improvements.—Superintendent Goodfellow, Master Mechanic Cross and Locomotive Inspector Phipps of the C. P. R., left today for Nanaimo yesterday and today it is understood looking over the ground contemplated improvements on E. & N. here, including connection with Sawmill and coal wharves with the main line.

Business Change.—The Hub cigar store, situated at the corner of Trowace Alley and Commercial street, has been purchased by Mr. J. C. Byrnes of this city. Mr. Byrnes is well known in the city and comes very near being a native son. For a number of years he was foreman for the Kurtz Cigar factory, and lately has been in the employ of the Province Cigar company. The store will be in charge of W. F. Byrnes.

Engravers' Death.—Word was received from Vancouver yesterday of the death on Thursday night of Albert Angel, engraver, after taking poison by mistake for brandy. Angel was an Englishman, and was worried by business troubles. Mr. Angel was formerly foreman of the British Columbia Photo-Engraving Company in this city, but for a year or more has been in business for himself in Vancouver.

Imported Herrings.—Herring for bait are scarce on the American side of the Puget Sound at present, and consequently it is necessary to import the fish from British Columbia, says the Tacoma Ledger. The first of the usual winter receipts of herring came in yesterday, when the British steamer Squid, Captain Rorvik, came in, bringing 10,000 pounds of herring for the International Fisheries Company. The Squid has been out fishing for some time. Besides the fresh herring used for bait, some will be smoked and placed on the market. It is still too early to catch herring in American waters, but those from British Columbia are larger. Halibut fishermen use herring to catch the larger fish.

Attracted to Victoria.—Owing to the successful advertising propaganda of the Victoria Tourist association, Fred Fuller, a prominent resident of Fullerton, Neb., and Mrs. Fullerton have been attracted to the city. They visited the city about a year ago and were so charmed that Mr. Fuller has decided to make his home here permanently and will purchase a suitable property, and, in all probability, make a number of investments, he being confident that a place with so many advantages and advantages not long remain undiscovered to the great majority of eastern Canadians and Americans who now endure year after year the extreme of heat and cold, during the summer and winter seasons respectively.

Fountain Arranged For.—Lovers of the artistic will be pleased to learn that the unsightly "duck pond" in the centre of the lawn fronting the Provincial Parliament buildings is at last to be made a thing of pleasure and delight to look upon. The work of art, and other necessary material has arrived for the erection of a four basin fountain which, when set up, will make a highly artistic and attractive feature in keeping with the ornamentation of the main pile of buildings. The fountain will have a height of 18 feet with four basins. The first basin has a diameter of 7 feet, the second 4 feet, the third 2 feet and the top one 16 inches. The iron work will be finished in white and bronze coloring. The fountain was ordered from Mr. W. Fiske, manufacturer of New York through Messrs. Hooper & Watkins, architects. It will cost, completed, in the neighborhood of $1,400.

Chinese Newspaper.—The first Chinese paper to be published in Canada will probably be started in Vancouver about the first of the year. It will be a tri-weekly and will be devoted to the interests of the Chinese Empire Reform Association. Last year representatives of the Chinese Empire Reform Association held a conference in Vancouver, and the gathering was a success of the highest order. Next week delegates will arrive from all the large cities in that year, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, and on the day that the Scotsmen celebrate will meet in the commodious and handsome quarters of the Chinese Association on Carroll street. At this meeting the publication of the newspaper will be discussed, and as the proposal has met with favor, it is altogether probable that the details will be arranged. Many other matters of importance will also be discussed.

A Dual Compliment.—Mr. D. W. Higgins, the author, is the recipient of a high compliment from His Grace the Duke of Argyll, says the Vancouver World. Writing from Kensington palace on the 20th ult., his grace congratulated the author on his new work, "The Passing of a Race," and says that he finds the stories exceedingly interesting. Mr. Higgins had the honor of meeting his grace upon many occasions, when, nearly 25 years ago, as Marquis of Lorne and governor-general, and as commander of the Princess Louise, he came to British Columbia on a mission of peace. There was a serious clash between the provincial and Dominion governments at the time, but the Duke composed all differences and established the harmonious relations that have ever since been maintained between the east and west. The Duke of Argyll will always be referred to as one of Canada's greatest viceroys, but he will be best remembered in British Columbia as a peacemaker.

BRITISH COLUMBIA LECTURES.
Robert W. Clark of Victoria Preparing For Campaign in Old Country.

Robert W. Clark, of Victoria, has sent a communication to the board of trade, stating that he intends making a three months' trip through Manitoba and Ontario, and that he is taking with him over 200 slides of British Columbia views, says the Rossland Miner. He believes he will have the finest set of views of this province ever got together. He will leave Victoria at the end of next month and expects to visit about fifty towns and cities during the first three months of the coming year, and he feels that he can do some good advertising for the province. Mr. Clark desires to get some thoroughly representative slides of the mining resources and the scenic beauties of the district and says if the board of trade feels that it can help him in the furtherance of this wish he would be pleased to hear from them right away. He further states that he will be in Revelstoke on January 4, and if there is any organization in Rossland which would care to take up an entertainment he would be pleased to give them an evening for half the proceeds. Mr. Clark says he intends to go to Great Britain next winter for the purpose of lecturing and displaying his views.

A TALK ON THE NICKEL PLATE

Mill Superintendent Tells of the Magnificent Development of Kootenay Property.

While rival railroad companies are fighting, in the courts and occasionally in the open, for rights of way in southern British Columbia, one of the richest mineral districts in the province is being quietly and steadily developed, says the Nelson News. The delay in securing transportation facilities is undoubtedly retarding the growth of mining camps into towns and cities, and it has made the cost of mining supplies and operations very high, but it has not prevented the development and profitable operation of one of the biggest and richest gold mines in America.

The Nickel Plate group in Hedley camp, the property of the Daly Reduction Company, has been worked steadily for two years. During the last year regular shipments have been made to the Everett smelter. Concentrates have been shipped for treatment. The sand has been cyanided in the company's own mill at Hedley and the bullion has been shipped, also to Everett.

of Pentiction, the Okanagan lake, Sicamous and the main line of the C. P. R. to Vancouver.

The distance from Hedley to Pentiction is 45 miles and the cost of packing is $20 per ton for every kind of freight. It will readily be seen that under such circumstances only very rich deposits can be worked at all, and the best only by companies with abundant capital.

The Nickel Plate group consists of 15 claims, of which only two have yet been developed, the Nickel Plate and the Sunny-side. The amount expended to date by the Daly Reduction Company is between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000. In return for that amount the company, in addition to all that has already been shipped, has in sight more than $4,000,000 worth of ore.

Rich Mines in Hedley

A. H. Brown, who is retiring after two years' service from the superintendency of the company's cyanide mill, spent yesterday in Nelson on his way to the coast. To a representative of the Daily News Mr. Brown said:

"In spite of all the difficulties it has had to contend with from the beginning and apparently will still have to face for some time, Hedley is all right.

"When the country is opened up by a railway and supplies and machinery can be taken in at reasonable rates a large number of very rich mines will be operated and Hedley will become the premier camp of the province.

So far the Daly company has done nearly all the work that has been done in the camp. Its operations are on a very large scale. Of the 15 claims contained in the Nickel Plate group only two, the Nickel Plate and the Sunnyside, have had any development done on them so far.

"The mine is at an elevation of 5,850 feet; the camp is 1,470 feet. The ore is brought down by a system of trains, electric with a grade of 5 per cent, and a gravity train, interrupted in the middle, with a grade probably averaging 36 per cent.

"The ore is concentrated in Hedley and the concentrates are shipped to Everett. The sand and tailings are cyanided and the bullion also shipped to Everett. Everything is shipped by way of Pentiction.

"The amount of ore actually in sight? It is hard to say, certainly more than $4,000,000 worth. The ore varies greatly in value, but it is all high grade.

"I don't know very much about other mines in the district than those owned by the Daly company. Some splendid samples have been shown, and it is reasonable to suppose that many other properties are also very rich and extensive. But they are mostly in the hands of men who cannot afford to operate on a large scale under present conditions. They are waiting, with what patience they can, for the long promised railway connections.

"There are probably about 300 people in Hedley now. Half of the number are men. Quite a number have brought in their families. There is no doubt about the permanence of the camp, but living is still pretty expensive."

Missing People.—Salvation Army headquarters at Toronto are instancing inquiries for Jackson Pauls, last heard of at Revelstoke and Mrs. N. McLean, (nee, Josephine Catherine Koefe) age 25 years, last heard of at Victoria.

Labor Problem Confronts Hawaii

Prince Kahanalano Who Arrived by Steamer Aorangi Talks of the Islands.

Suggests Admission of Chinese on Terms Similar to Those in Transvaal.

Prince Kuhio Kahanalano, second son of the last Hawaiian ruler, King Kalakaua, elected king of the islands on the death of Lunalilo, without heirs in 1874, arrived from Honolulu by the steamer Aorangi yesterday en route to Washington, D. C., as delegate of Hawaiian Territory, U. S. of the 10th congress. Prince Kuhio Kahanalano, otherwise known as Prince Kapili, as he was nicknamed by the late King Kalakaua, is now going to serve his second term in Congress as the Republican delegate from Hawaii. He told a Colonist reporter yesterday he would run again, if offered the nomination, although he was not anxious for it. It had been said at Honolulu that Governor Carter would resign from his executive position to run as a candidate for congress, but he doubted this. The governor would be a good representative for Hawaii, he said. His own election, by a plurality of over 6,000, had been contested by the Democratic candidate, Mr. Iwakawa, who claimed the election was illegal; but the prince said he is fully prepared to prove its legality.

Labor Problem Serious

Before leaving for Seattle yesterday en route to the United States capital, Prince Kahanalano gave an interview to a Colonist reporter in which he touched upon some of the problems, which are confronting the Hawaiian people since their annexation to the United States did away with their old-time laws. The labor problem is perhaps the most serious. Labor, cheap labor that is, is scarce, and as for skilled labor there is not sufficient to employ the mechanics and other men of whom are leaving the islands. Before annexation, said Prince Kahanalano, we depended mostly on Asiatic, Chinese labor. Now the supply is done away with because under the United States laws Chinese are not admitted. Japanese are allowed to enter the country, but they are unstable and unsatisfactory. Sugar planting is the chief industry of the islands. In fact, the main stay of the country, and the planters are already complaining of a shortage of labor. As time goes on the scarcity becomes worse and soon a crisis will be reached. We have tried to import Portuguese and Galicians for work on the plantations, but this has not been satisfactory. They are good workmen, especially the Portuguese who are a steady and progressive people, but they do not remain long on the plantations. After working for a space they make a little homestead of their own, and leave plantation work.

Chinese Under Contract Wanted

"If we could pass a law to allow of the entrance into the Hawaiian islands of a certain number of Chinese to do field labor solely, who of course would have to come into the country from China under contract, it might relieve the situation, but I doubt if this will be permitted. The United States government would, I am afraid, be averse to allowing the Chinese to enter the islands, as it were, and as workmen of them being brought under contract anyhow. I was in the Transvaal when it was suggested that Chinese be brought in from China to work the Rand mines and I favor the adoption of a similar scheme for the Hawaiian plantations. The importation of a large number of Chinese under contract to work for a term of years on the sugar plantations of Hawaii similar to those now on the Rand in South Africa, would save Hawaii. Otherwise, I am afraid the planters will suffer severely.

U. S. Shipping Laws Unsatisfactory

There are a large number of sugar plantations in Hawaii, but only one of them refines its own sugar, a plantation at Honolulu. The other plantations ship the raw material, a good deal of which goes to San Francisco and to Delaware. Before annexation the shipping facilities at the disposal of Hawaiian shippers were much better. The operation of the United States shipping laws in the islands since the territory was annexed to the United States has caused considerable inconvenience, it is an injustice in fact to the Hawaiians. Now they cannot use the foreign bottoms in which they formerly sent cargo to the coast. Many British vessels formerly carried sugar to United States ports from the islands, but since the United States shipping laws made it impossible for vessels other than those flying the United States flag to carry cargo to the islands, the shippers have suffered hardships because there are not sufficient American vessels to carry the freight offered. This state of affairs often causes loss. I have sometimes seen sugar lying on the wharf because a vessel could not be secured to carry it. It's an injustice to us of Hawaii, but, I suppose as we are a part of the United States of America we must stand our part of the system.

The Hawaiians have had quite a lot of politics since annexation. You talk of hot elections elsewhere but they can have no hotter elections than those we have here. The islands are a hotbed of politics since annexation.

The old-time customs have not gone from Hawaii but they are passing. The stories which are circulated regarding something and how they pray people to death are more or less absurd. A Kahuna is a herb doctor usually who imposes on the poor people.

Before I left Honolulu there was a movement on foot among the merchants to purchase or charter a steamer which would give Honolulu a service to San Francisco. There is, at present, no steamer in service to the coast, although to Honolulu and, I think there is need for such a service as is suggested.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER

Arrived at Vancouver Yesterday—A Chat on Imperial Politics.

Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., arrived on the Imperial Limited yesterday morning from the East, accompanied by Lady Tupper, Miss Tupper of Winnipeg and Mr. James Tupper, son of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, who has been with the Western Canada Ranching Company in Alberta, says the News-Advertiser. The party came to Vancouver to be present at the marriage of Miss Sophie Tupper, which takes place on December 4. Sir Charles and Lady Tupper will spend the remainder of the winter in town, guests of their son.

Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., is known as the old Conservative war-horse, and after nearly half a century in Canadian politics his interest in public affairs is as keen as ever. He has recently returned from England, and despite his 85 years, traveling has not affected his health. On his way to the Coast he spent some time in Winnipeg, having two sons living in that city.

"In my judgment the Policy of Preferential Trade in Great Britain is making steady progress," he remarked in reply to a question regarding political affairs in the Old Country. "That conviction of mine is that the revolution, the great one, has not yet taken place in the public mind of Great Britain since Chamberlain made his famous speech at Birmingham in 1904. At no distant day his policy will be accepted. England is a Conservative country, especially when asked to accept a policy that is opposed to accepted policies of all parties, and from the progress Chamberlain has made and the change produced in the public mind in a year there is no room for doubt that his proposal will be accepted."

While Sir Frederick Pollock's scheme is for closer inter-imperial relations, it has no connection with Joseph Chamberlain's policy, which is for better inter-imperial trade. Some of Sir Frederick Pollock's scheme is old and some new. That which is old has been generally accepted, but so far has not obtained great support. The proposition to have a council of the empire, representing the colonies with members of the Imperial government, is not new.

Chamberlain's Policy in a word is the imposition of a duty of two shillings per quarter on wheat from countries not in the empire, having no duty for wheat from the colonies, and in general terms there is something like 10 per cent. on the products from foreign countries, while the products from the colonies will have free access.

Asked concerning Canadian members of the Imperial parliament, and why little is heard of them now, Sir Charles replied that the principle of home rule for which they contend has steadily lost ground, until it is difficult to find anyone outside the Irish Nationalists that support it. Home rule might also be said to be a dead issue.

"Every Canadian is in the ascendant in Great Britain," he said, "in answer to another query. This embraces everything relating to this country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. People in the Old Country are beginning to realize the great importance Canada occupies in the empire and its extraordinarily rapid progress. Emigration is increasing because of the fact that the European world, obliged to look for homes in a new country, sees that no other can offer such advantages as Canada does."

Sir Charles did not care to offer any opinion on Canadian affairs, being, he said, somewhat out of touch owing to his extended visit abroad. He left England on the last day of August, hence has been on this side of the Atlantic only a couple of months.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Mannell, Maryland, block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 20, 1905, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead, and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause, and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. C. H. Bowes & Co., 38 Government street, Special Agents.

What Flour Granulation Means in Bread-Making

Flour is composed of myriads of tiny granules.

To make good bread these granules must be uniform in size.

In poorly milled flour some granules are large, some small.

The small ones absorb yeast, "rise" and "ripen" before the large ones—the result is bread of coarse, poor texture.

The large granules are not developed into "sponge," they bake into heavy hard particles, spoil the texture of the bread and make it harder to digest.

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is perfectly milled—all the flour granules are uniform in size—the sponge rises uniformly—the bread is even in texture—perfect in flavor—good-looking, appetising bread—easily digested.

Ogilvie's back it with their reputation by branding it

Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour.

A Young Lady Transformed!

All the charm of Girlhood restored.

This is only one of hundreds of cases in which "Fruit-a-tives" changed Pale, Sallow Skin into the Rosy Bloom of Health.

Too many women have sallow skin—bad complexion—dark circles under the eyes—headaches—backaches—sick stomachs.

Too few women have the robust health and rosy bloom of girlhood—that "Fruit-a-tives" preserve.

Some women don't realize how surely Constipation undermines the health and brings premature old age.

The intestines do two things—give up nourishment to the blood—and carry off waste matter.

But—if Constipation keeps the waste in the intestines, the blood takes up poison instead of nutriment.

It is this waste—carried all over the system by the blood—that causes Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Bad Breath, Headaches, Backaches, Sallow Skin, Pimples, Paleness and Thinness.

The woman who wants

- a fine complexion
- to be free of headaches and backaches
- to eat well, sleep well and look well
- to feel well ALL THE TIME

Ottawa, Ont.

Gentlemen—
I have much pleasure in reporting to you the great benefit I have received from taking "Fruit-a-tives"—and I feel that I cannot say too much in favor of a medicine which has done me so much good. I was a martyr to that distressing complaint, Chronic Constipation, accompanied by severe headaches, backache, sick stomach and all the symptoms of dyspepsia. I had also a dreadful complexion, sallow in the extreme and black under the eyes. I had every symptom of kidney irritation and I had been told by physicians that my kidneys were affected. I consulted a number of physicians and took various remedies but received very little benefit. Last May I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and when I began to take them I had little faith of getting anything to give me permanent relief, but after I had taken half a box, the constipation was relieved, the headaches left me, the pain in my back was better and I could sleep as soundly as when I was a child. Also, my complexion began to clear up again, all the sallowness disappeared

"Fruit-a-tives" are NOT cathartics. They contain NO calomel, jalap, cascara, "oil," or "gals."
"Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in tablet form. They are a discovery that deserves to rank with anaesthetics and vaccine.
"Fruit-a-tives" are a tonic for the bowels. They tone up the intestines, make them move regularly and naturally.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Constipation just as surely as chloroform relieves pain.
If you are suspicious of your health, don't wait for proof and sickness. Take "Fruit-a-tives."
All druggists have these health preserving, pleasant tasting fruit tablets.
50c. a box—and worth ten times 50c. to any woman who wants to enjoy the luxury of perfect health.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

Victoria theatre goes were not strongly represented last night at the Victoria theatre, when Andrew Mack and a talented company gave a finished production of "Under Two Flags," a drama, "Tom Moore," a romantic drama dealing with incidents in the career of the favorite poet of Ireland. Andrew Mack is an actor, and a good one. His presentation of the role of Tom Moore was a work of art and he well merited the curtain calls he received. During the course of the play he sang, in a good tenor voice, a number of the old Irish ballads of the poet, including the ever popular "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "The Last Rose of Summer." Miss Josephine Lovett, as Bessie Byke, Moore's sweetheart, played her role excellently and was well applauded. The other members of the company were satisfactory and the play was well staged.

Watson's Theatre

Another big audience witnessed the Watson Stock Company's really fine production of "Under Two Flags" at the Watson Theatre last evening. The dramatization of Onda's story that the Watsons are presenting is an exceptionally good one. There is any amount of action in "Under Two Flags" in fact there is something doing all the time. Every climax is a stirring one and exciting scenes and incidents follow each other in rapid succession. The picturesque costumes of the French soldiers add color to the general scene and the whole production from a scenic as well as an acting standpoint is first-class in every particular.

There will be a matinee of "Under Two Flags" today and it is sure to be a record-breaking one. Tonight the last performance will be given. It would be advisable to reserve seats early for these last performances, for everything points to a packed house tonight.

Starting Monday night an especially interesting performance of East Lynne will be given. The last half of the week will be devoted to the great English masterpiece, "Trilby."

The Grand

There will be two matinees at the Grand theatre this afternoon, beginning at 2:30, at which only five cents will be charged for children, and three performances tonight, beginning at 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30, will close a successful week. The programme includes Forrest Scabary, Marie Yvonne and Company, a comedy sketch, the great Weston, character impersonator, the Woodson sisters, in monologue and song, DuWall and Erwin.

Championship Match Today

The football match to be played this afternoon at Oak Bay between the Garrison and the Victoria United is creating more excitement than has been experienced in this city for some time past. Both teams rested last evening and are now ready and anxious to play to the hilt. Never in this city have two teams played so close as these teams that will meet this afternoon, and given fine weather, the game promises to be one of the fastest ever played in this city.

Neither team is sure of a victory, and when they go on the field this afternoon it will be with the knowledge that they will have to play to win.
The game today will play an important part in the championship series. With the local team leading by two points it will be necessary for the Garrison to win to even the standing of the two clubs, and from the practice they have been doing they evidently realize their position.

The game will be called sharp at 3 o'clock, with Mr. Robinson handling the whistle, and it will be up to him to say if the grounds are in fit condition to play on.
The teams will line up as follows:
Victoria United. Goal Garrison.

Intermediate Match Today

The intermediate teams from the North Ward and Central clubs will contest for

A WOMAN'S BACK IS THE MAINSPRING OF HER PHYSICAL SYSTEM.

The Slightest Backache, if Neglected, is Liable to Cause Years of Terrible Suffering.

No woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well, and regular in their action.

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to have filtered out of the blood are left in the system.

The female constitution is naturally more subject to kidney disease than a man's; and what is more, a woman's work is never done—her whole life is one continuous strain.

"How many women have you heard say: 'My, how my back aches!' Do you know that backache is one of the first signs of kidney trouble? It is, and should be attended to immediately. Other symptoms are frequent thirst, scanty, thick, cloudy or highly colored urine, burning sensation when urinating, frequent urination, puffing under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, floating specks before the eyes, etc.

These symptoms if not taken in time and cured at once, will cause years of terrible kidney suffering. All these symptoms, and in fact, these diseases may be cured by the use of

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

They act directly on the kidneys, and make them strong and healthy.

Mrs. Mary Galley, Auburn, N.S., writes: "For over four months I was troubled with a lame back and was unable to turn in bed without help. I was induced by a friend to try Doan's Kidney Pills. After using two thirds of a box my back was well as ever."

supremacy this afternoon at Beacon Hill. This game will mark the first appearance of the Centrals this season, and they are expected to put up a very hard game. The match will commence at 3 o'clock, and C. Jasper will act as referee.

North Ward vs. Victoria West

The junior league game for today has been transferred to Beacon Hill on account of the senior game taking place at Oak Bay. The contesting teams for the day are the North Ward and Victoria West.

The last match between these teams was won by the Victoria West by the score of 10. With this as a criterion, a hard game is looked for today. The game will start at 1:30 sharp, and the following will represent North Ward: Goal, Auld; backs, Hunter and Dugan; half backs, Seabrook, Bishop and Roberts; forwards, Tate, Sweeney, McCarter, McGregor and Taylor.

RUGBY.

Leave for Vancouver

The Collegiate Rugby football team left for Vancouver last evening, where they will meet the team from the Queen's College this afternoon. J. C. Barnacle goes over with the team. The boys are confident of their ability to win.

HOCKEY.

Practice Today

A full practice of the Victoria Hockey Club will be held this afternoon at Oak Bay at 3 o'clock. All members are requested to turn out, as there are only a very few more chances of practice before the match with Vancouver on December 10.

To Meet Nanaimo

The Victoria Ladies' Hockey Club will journey to Nanaimo today, where they will meet the representatives of the Coal City in the first intercity game of the season. The local team has been practicing steadily for some time, and are in good condition for the match. A referee will be taken up from this city. Besides there will be quite a few supporters of the team go up as "rooters." The team to represent Victoria will be: Goal, Miss Jay; backs, Misses Lowe and Buckle; half backs, Misses Newcombe, Sehl, Leeming; forwards, Misses Hardie, Roberts, Atkinson, Wilson and Clark.

THE OAR.

J. B. A. A. Cups

The two cups which were won by the J. B. A. A. four oared crews at the recent N. P. A. A. O. are on exhibition in Messrs. Challoner & Mitchell's window on Government street. The cup which was won by the senior fours is that presented by the association at the last general meeting. It is a large loving cup with three handles, with an ebony base, and stands about two feet high, finished in a dull grey color. The inscription is done in raised letters, as follows: "Senior fours, N. P. A. A. O. Won by J. B. A. A. O. 1905. C. B. Kennedy, stroke; C. S. Finlayson, P. Austin, J. Donaldson, bow."

The cup for the junior four oared, which was donated by A. C. Finmerfelt, is also a very handsome one. Like the senior cup, it is made of solid silver and bears practically the same inscription as the senior, with the exception of the names, which are as follows: "A. McLean, stroke; E. Browne, W. R. Jenkinson, P. Dresser, bow."

The cups are from Challoner & Mitchell's and will add very greatly to the Bay's collection of trophies.

BILLIARDS.

R. G. A. Loss

The return match between the sergeants of the R. G. A. and a team from the Driford was played at the Driford last evening, when the local players turned the tables on their opponents. As will be remembered, the last match resulted in a win for the Garrison, but the locals were stronger last evening and won by the score of 3 wins, 1 loss and a draw.

The latter had to be called on account of the barracks men having to catch the last car for home.

The game for the game was called the Garrison representative was leading.

The highest run of the evening was made by Proctor, of the Driford team. During the game promises to be one of the fastest ever played by the home players.

The following are the results of the matches: Gibson, 150, beat Paley, R. G. A., 125; Proctor beat Eldridge, R. G. A., 120-102; Askey, R. G. A., beat Smith, 120-111; Penketh beat Williamson, 120-121; Brown and Riar a draw.

Probably more comfortable fortunes have been realized from judicious investment in meritorious inventions than from any other form of speculative investment. Of course, the really big returns are usually made by individuals or syndicates who finance promising inventions through their early stages, and if they admit the general public do so at a vastly increased price.

Certainly the public (YOU AND I) are not often given the opportunity to even examine the ground floor plan of as promising an institution as

THE CANADIAN ELECTRO FORCE CO.

A Company now being formed to acquire the Canadian rights to the Patented Electro-Therapeutic Devices, as well as the system registered under the name Electro-Force.

The device is simple, inexpensive and absolutely adapted to its purpose, which is that of placing the healing electric current from any source through any part of the body desired. This may be worn all night with comfort, and the properly located current cut down to any volume desired at the battery. The advantage in nearly every case of being able to use a light and long continued current is self-evident, even over the costly expert or sanatorium treatment. While, when compared with the ordinary, awkward manipulation of the shock current from a home battery or the local treatment devices, it may be seen at once that this covers the special province of any of these and very much besides.

The various appliances for home electrical treatment have sold by the hundred thousand, and many of these are faith cures, all limited in application. NONE WILL BEAT "CANADIAN ELECTRO-FORCE" WITH "ELECTRO-FORCE," so that as fast as it becomes known we may be cure of an almost universal demand.

AS FOR PROFIT

This is a Parent Company and will organize Provincial and other Agencies, contract for the manufacture and distribution of Electro Force outfits and take general superintendence of the business in Canada.

We estimate that this can be done with $5,000, but (and the Company can use twice that amount to advantage). It is, therefore, decided to authorize the issue of five hundred shares at par, $10 per share, for public subscription, 100 shares to the patentee as per agreement, and 400 shares to be sold at par to the various provincial agencies as established, giving a cash capital of $5,000, and an issue of but 1,000 shares.

The absence of promoters' stock is a feature to be noted, the stock being all treasury stock.

Owing to the small capital, earnings will make dividends very rapidly net earnings of $1,000 a year would be 10 per cent. dividends, and the Company properly handled should earn much more than that per month.

Enough has been said to convince anyone who wishes a chance to make money quickly and easily that this opportunity should be investigated, and that at once.

Full information, model, prospectus, application for shares by personal application at the office of the Secretary.

Witte's Cabinet Gains Ground

Satisfied With Attitude of the Zemstvo Congress Towards Government.

Autonomy for Poland the Great Stumbling Block in the Conference.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 24.—The Witte cabinet appears to be fairly satisfied with the definition by the zemstvo congress of its attitude towards the government believing that it will produce a good impression on the conservative sentiment throughout the country and materially aid the premier in successfully accomplishing his task of finding a common ground between the reactionists and malcontents.

Moscow, Nov. 25.—A sharp division of sentiment on the question of Polish autonomy cropped up at yesterday's session of the zemstvo congress.

Over 50 speakers demanded to be heard on the question and while the majority of them emphasized with the request that the majority of them sympathized with the request of the Poles for the abrogation of martial law, many were opposed to autonomy looking upon it as the first step toward the breaking up of the empire. The executive committee took into account this sentiment in drafting a proposed resolution which will declare that congress endorsed the decision of the September congress with regard to the autonomy of Poland the question should be turned over to the first duma for settlement.

Polish Autonomy

The congress adjourned without the debate being finished.

The proposed resolution in full declares, "while confirming completely the decision of previous congress favor of the autonomy of Poland this congress considers as urgent; firstly the abolition of the state of siege in Poland; secondly that the reference to the first national assembly of the question of Polish autonomy on condition that the unity of the empire be preserved and thirdly the immediate introduction of the Polish language in the primary schools and with other courts of Poland."

A resolution calling for a general amnesty excepting from pardon those who committed political crimes accompanied by pillage and arson, was adopted by the committee of the congress.

Accept Imperial Manifesto

By a scanty majority of 20 the zemstvo congress accepted the first section of the programme drafted by the executive committee, declaring the solidarity of the congress with the principles of the imperial manifesto of October 30, assuring the government of the support of the great majority of zemstvo and municipalities in carrying into effect the liberties promised in the manifesto, but laying down as the sole means of guaranteeing the authority of the duma and restoring order in the country to the election of representatives by a general, direct, equal and secret ballot, and the formal grant to the first duma of the power to elaborate a constitution for the empire.

Count Witte's Friends

The friends of Count Witte on the floor made a stout fight against the provision for a direct ballot, the one concession which the premier considers it impossible to grant, but this provision was carried over their heads by a two-thirds majority. The resolution in its final form is substantially the same as cabled. The committee to which it was referred for further consideration made numerous alterations in the phraseology, but little change in the substance except the insertion of demand for the immediate abolition of martial law in Poland as among the measures deemed to be imperative in the conviction of the duma.

Responsibility of Ministers

The congress also inserted, at the suggestion of the committee, a provision subjecting all ministers except the cabinet ministers to the responsibility of the cabinet. Mr. Mulikoff, explaining that with the ministers of war, navy and foreign affairs excepted from such responsibility, not only should war or peace be decided without consulting the premier, but the minister of war could declare martial law in any section of the country without consulting his colleagues.

ADMIRAL CHALLENGED.

Exciting Incident Attending Court-martial at Annapolis.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 24.—One of the most remarkable incidents in the history of naval court-martials in this country marked today's session of the court which is trying Midshipman Minor Merriweather Jr. in connection with the fight between himself and Midshipman James R. Branch. Rear Admiral Alexander H. McCormick, next in point of rank of the members of the court to Admiral Ramsay, its president, was challenged by Judge Advocate Marx after the whole testimony of the prosecution had been submitted. After Judge Advocate Marx had stated the grounds, Lieut. Commander Robinson, counsel for the accused, jumped to his feet, and, addressing the judge advocate, said: "Captain Marx, I am a very young man. You wear more stripes on your arms than I can hope to do for many years."

At this point Captain Wainwright suggested that counsel address the court, and what promised to be an exciting personal colloquy was averted. The challenge was not answered.

The second point of interest to the challenge against Admiral McCormick was the court's determination to request the secretary of the navy to order that the body of Midshipman Branch be exhumed and an autopsy held. It is believed that almost absolute information can be obtained as to the existence of any previous diseased conditions of the heart, brain or other organs such as would have made death possible at the time as among the other than the blows received in the fight. The prosecution closed its case today.

DEMONSTRATION PROCEEDS.

Naval Commanders to Take Action Against the Unspeaking Turk.

London, Nov. 25.—The commanders of the allied fleet at Piræus held a further conference yesterday on board the Austrian cruiser St. George, as the result of which it is expected the fleet will sail today to seize the custom house of the island of Mytilene. Despatches from Athens say that two Russian vessels will join in the demonstration, but that Germany shows no sign of participating. Doubts are expressed as to whether, in the event of the Sultan proving obstinate, the combined fleet could establish an effective blockade of the Dardanelles. According to the Standard, should the naval demonstration be disregarded, the powers will give Austria a mandate to take the necessary military steps for the securing of the proposed reforms in Macedonia.

Vienna, Nov. 25.—The Neue Freie Presse asserts that the only reply from the powers to the porte's final note will be the issuance of instructions to Admiral Ritter von Jedina to begin operations.

Balkan States Warned
Vienna, Nov. 24.—Various alarmist rumors have been current here for the last two days to the effect that some of the Balkan states, particularly Bulgaria, are considering a plan to take advantage of Turkey's present predicament and to start a serious movement against that country for the purpose of succoring the people inhabiting Macedonia. These stories have received credence from fact which was learned tonight that Austria had addressed the powers signatory to the treaty of Berlin, submitting of them the advisability of forwarding to the respective governments of the Balkan states a collective note setting forth that these governments should not misinterpret the naval demonstration as a good opportunity to harass Turkey.

To Cure Catarrh the Germs must be Killed.

Japanese Catarrh Cure does it.

Catarrh is a germ disease, like typhoid fever and smallpox. It is a minute germ that weakens the membranes lining the nostrils, starts up inflammation and ulceration, takes away taste and hearing, and in the advanced stages affects the lungs, kidneys and liver. Japanese Catarrh Cure kills the germs, and cures. It is the only remedy that reaches every part of the affected surfaces. Hundreds of testimonials prove that Japanese Catarrh Cure is the never-failing cure for Catarrh.

Mr. Frank Downs, Port Hope, writes:—"I have been subject to Catarrh for over three years, and could get nothing to help me. A friend advised the use of Japanese Catarrh Cure. I purchased a package from my druggist and got relief after three applications. I followed up the treatment, and am thankful to say, was soon completely cured."

DOCTOR CASCARET

Office—in your own Vest Pocket

On call any Minute—Day or Night

When Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Headache, Bad Breath, Coated Tongue, Belching of Stomach Gas, or any of these forerunners of indigestion appear, Old Dr. Cascaret wants to be right on the spot in your pocket.

He wants to check the coming trouble instantly before it can grow into a habit of the Bowels to be costly.

Ladies, who extend to Dr. Cascaret the hospitality of their Purses or their Dress Pockets, will be rewarded with a fine complexion, and healthy Happiness.

These will about fifty times repay for the trifling space occupied, and the ten cents per week at cost.

Dr. Cascaret guarantees to cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation and Indigestion, without discomfort or inconvenience.

His medicine does not gripe nor purge, nor create a drug habit.

Because it is not a "Bile-driver," nor a Castor-Juice Waster, but a direct Tonic to the Bowel Muscles.

It exercises naturally the muscles that line the walls of the Intestines and Bowels.

Want of Exercise weakens and relaxes these Bowel-Muscles, just as it weakens Arm and Leg muscles.

Old Dr. Cascaret goes directly after these Bowel-Muscles. He wakes them up just as a cold bath would wake up a lazy person.

Then he works them (through the nerves) till they get so strong from that Exercise that they don't need any more help to do their duty.

But Dr. Cascaret wants to be right on the spot, in your Pocket or Purse, where he can regulate these Bowel-Muscles all the time, in health, and out of health.

Because, even the strongest Bowel-Muscles may be overworked.

Heavy dinners, late suppers, whiskey, wine, or beer drinking, nervous excitement, sudden exposure to cold or heat and a dozen other every day likelihoods tire the Bowel Muscles.

In such cases a little Cascaret in time is worth fifty dollars worth of Treatment later on, to say nothing of the suffering, discomfort, loss of Business Energy, and loss of Social Sunshine it saves.

Old Dr. Cascaret carried constantly in your Vest Pocket, or in "My Lady's" Purse is the cheapest kind of Health-Insurance, and Happiness—Promotion, that ever happened.

Little thin enamel Cascaret Box, half as thick as your watch, round-cornered, smooth-edged, and shaped so you don't notice its presence.

Scotch Herring Expert's Work

Article Descriptive of the System Employed Now in the Old Country.

Experiment of Exceptional Interest and Importance to Canadian People.

In view of the fact that Mr. Cowie, the herring expert, is now visiting Nanaimo, giving instructions in the Scotch system of curing herring, the following article will be of interest.

I have spent a week on this easternmost point of the mainland of Canada in the ancient and straggling shore town of Canso, says a writer in the Toronto Globe. This is emphatically a fishing town. Fishing fleets go up and down the harbor; fishermen go up and down the streets; fish of all sorts are to be seen at the wharves; the aroma of fish is in the air, and the fish history of the place runs back through four full centuries. History has it that the French commenced to fish and trade at Canso as early as 1504 and pursued the business for the next two hundred years.

Canso was obviously designed by nature for fish and fishermen. Nothing else could thrive thereabouts. The town stands on the outmost point of a promontory of coarse granite that pushes itself out into the sea, with Chedabucto bay at the north and the surge of the Atlantic on the south—a rocky barren waste with scarcely soil enough scattered on its great, high-lying stretches to sustain even the hardiest of vegetable scrub. In some of the valleys and in the pockets about the shore attempts at agriculture are made, and the fishermen grow potatoes enough for home consumption, but in fifty thousand acres enough land could not be found for one good Ontario farm. The population live in scattered hamlets or in utter isolation along the shore, and their life ex-fort, by which they support themselves and add to the wealth of the world, is in the toll with which they reap the harvest of the seas.

The Ocean's Harvest

When it is remembered that the export fish trade of Nova Scotia reaches $8,000,000 annually, and that another million is added by the trade to local and Canadian markets, the importance of the industry which made Canso famous long before Halifax was claimed from the "unmurmuring pine and the hemlock" will not be overlooked even by the inland agricultural provinces. Fish in great varieties are taken in these waters, but the more important fish of commerce are the cod, the haddock, the pollock, the herring, the mackerel, the salmon, the hake, the halibut, the lobster, the gasparreux, the shad, the eel and the smelts. These are supplied fresh, or salted and dried, or salted in pickle, or smoked, or canned. The cod, haddock, halibut and herring are taken more or less at all seasons; mackerel during the summer months; salmon from March to July. For many fish the season is fixed by the temperature of the ocean.

Curing Like Scotch

An experiment of exceptional interest and importance, not only to the fishing industry, but to the Canadian public and to the Canadian trade, has been carried to a successful issue here in connection with the curing and marketing of herring. In the past the Scotch herring brought more than double the price of the Nova Scotia herring in the American and European markets. Russia and Germany are the two largest consumers of herring in the world. To those markets alone last year Scotland exported eight million barrels of herring and enormous prices are paid in St. Petersburg for the first catch of Scotch herring. These facts and the failure of the Nova Scotia herring to command the market, led the Dominion government to investigate and to experiment.

Two years ago the government chartered an English herring boat from Newcastle-on-Tyne, engaged a Scotch manager, a Scotch cooper, and Scotch gillmen in the fish-curing business in Scotland, and stationed them at Canso to take and to treat Nova Scotia herring after the Scotch process. They caught the fish with drift nets as in Scotland, treated them according to the Scotch method, and packed them in barrels made exactly like the Scotch standard. Last season's experiment proved the Nova Scotia herring to be at least the equal of any in the world, and that they would command the highest price. The output of the season's experiment, some hundred barrels, was sold in New York and St. Petersburg for $12 to $15 per barrel, showing the same herring put up in the ordinary way would command not more than $6 per barrel.

Exports Will Increase

The manager of the experiment, Mr. Cowie, returned this season with his crew, and operated this season until July 1, and since then at Yarmouth, on the western coast of the province. The catch this year has been about the price equally satisfactory. He is thoroughly convinced of the superior excellence of the Nova Scotia herring and of the prospects of an enormously increased export trade. His crew, men, and women, intend remaining here, and engaging in the fishing trade. Their services and the instruction offered free during these two seasons, will do much to make the experiment a permanent success.

After having looked into the situation created by this experiment, and of it with those engaged in the fishing business or intelligently informed as to its history, one cannot but be impressed not only by the very great importance of this interesting and satisfactory experiment, but also by the criticalness of the stage which the industry has now reached. It has been proved beyond all doubt that the market price of Nova Scotia herring can be doubled by adopting the Scotch method. But that desirable result cannot be obtained without skill and care equal to those of the Scotch fishermen. The danger is that with such a multitude of Scotch herring on the market, the Scotch method, in the past inspection has been both troublesome to the fishermen and useless to the public.

Inspection Laws Needed

Just inspection laws are difficult to frame, and under present conditions still more difficult to administer justly. But inspection is necessary, and inspection laws similar to those of Scotland should be enacted and enforced. The tendency in the direction of the dividing of the fish business, by which the fishermen do the catching and the fish merchants do the curing and the marketing, is producing conditions more favorable to effective inspection. Were the packing done at a few centers, government should secure the best quality and the highest standard. One important reform could readily be effected. A better barrel is absolutely necessary. The barrel now used is too light, and is not properly constructed. It does not stand the strain of transportation; the pickle leaks out, and the fish lose their flavor. A standard barrel should be ordered by the government, and the fishermen seem to meet all the requirements.

The operation of the Scotch fishermen not only prove the superior quality of the Nova Scotia herring, but also suggest improvements in the fishing methods. The drift-net fishing, almost unknown in Canada, has never been adopted in Canada. Mr. Cowie has demonstrated its success here. It is probable that it will be applied to mackerel as well as to herring, and in the judgment of experienced traders the industry of the drift-net will be a decided advantage to the Nova Scotia fishermen.

The problem of developing the Canadian market is commanding the attention of Nova Scotia fish merchants. The problem is proper packing and rapid and cheap transportation. The railways are beginning to learn that a return cargo from the Scotch herring may be as profitable as an outgoing cargo of grain. The express transport of fresh fish in cold storage from the Atlantic to the inland provinces is still an "infant" industry in Canada.

Enterprise in Distribution

New enterprise is coming into the fish trade. One of the largest as well as oldest businesses in Nova Scotia is carried on at Canso, under the name of A. N. Whitman & Son. It was established by Abraham Whitman, who settled here and established a fish business in 1813, doing considerable trade with the West Indies and Mediterranean ports, and leaving a business which has been carried on ever since without interruption, and is now conducted by the grandsons.

Better transportation facilities are needed that the fish may be put on the market in perfect condition, and the fish dealers need the help of the government, and to instruct housekeepers in the preparation of many wholesome and tasty fish dishes of which they now know nothing. The same could be done in every town in Ontario, and such an intelligent expansion of trade would scope even in Nova Scotia. Canada should be a fish-eating country.

There are many other features of the fish industry hereabouts: the deep-sea fishing, the trade in squid, the lobster fishery and the newly-established reduction works by which the much-cursed dogfish is converted into valuable oils and fertilizers. All these are of more than local or transient interest.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is measured from the level of the lower low water at spring tides. The level corresponds with the Datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are referred, as closely as can now be ascertained. From observations during six months, in 1900, compared with simultaneous observations at Victoria. For time of high water add 14 minutes to high water at Victoria. For time of low water, add 17 minutes to low water at Victoria.

LOOK TO CANADA FOR THEIR CATTLE

Japanese Breeders Will Make Large Purchases—Have Faith in Pedigrees.

A recent Ottawa despatch says: The Japanese consul, Mr. T. Nosse, has received word that his government and many cattle raisers in Japan are surprised and pleased at the condition in which the cattle recently purchased in Canada arrived.

When the Japanese press announced that K. Kozu, a breeder, had started for Canada to buy cattle, instead of going to Great Britain or the United States, as was the custom of Japanese buyers, the Japanese government sent one of its cattle experts after him by the next steamer to buy stock for the Japanese experimental farm.

This was T. Ishizaki, and he bought a large number of Ayrshires and short-horns in Ontario. These were taken on the long journey across Canada. They had a rough 16-day passage of the Pacific, a rail journey across Japan, and finished with a fifty-mile walk to the government farm, where they arrived in such fine shape everyone was surprised, and finally they stood a searching series of health tests.

Mr. Nosse says Japanese cattle buyers are already aware of these facts, and large purchases will likely be made each year. The Japanese are especially anxious to have more faith in Canadian pedigrees than in those of the United States.

A HOME MADE HAPPY BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

About two months ago our baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and today she is well and happy. Her mother writes: "We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so, and our baby is alive and well today. There is no better preparation on the market than this remedy for a cough as well as colds, croup and whooping cough. It is especially good for children as it contains nothing injurious and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists."

STRONG TRUST COMPANY.

British Columbia Financial Men Rise to Occasion in Legitimate Enterprise.

The Montreal Star, in its issue of Saturday, October 18th, under the caption "Credit to 'Cecilia,'" contains the following: "British Columbia has risen to the occasion by organizing a strong trust company for the purpose of assisting legitimate enterprise and directing investments within the province."

It is a well-known fact that the supply of money for investment in British Columbia is far below the demand, and as a consequence the rate of interest is correspondingly high, some companies receiving as high as 10 per cent. on first mortgages, where the security was unquestionable. The name of this company is the Securities Corporation of British Columbia, Limited, and should fill a long felt want, as many British Columbia business men with a steadily increasing business have had to borrow from loan companies at a high rate of interest or from the bankers on what was more or less of a temporary arrangement which was not at all satisfactory. This is where the assistance of a trust company will be appreciated by both the east and the west, for by having his mortgage guaranteed by a trustworthy company, the capitalist at a lower rate of interest and the capitalist from the east is sure his money is safe, having it guaranteed by a reliable company. In addition to having a first mortgage, "The Securities Corporation of British Columbia" is also authorized to issue bonds, to receive money on deposits, and to act as financial agents, etc. No further recommendation is required for this company than to mention the names of the directors and to state that the Bank of Montreal is receiving subscriptions for the stock. The prospectus of "The Securities Corporation of British Columbia" can be found on another page in this issue.

The directors are: The Hon. P. L. Carter Cotton, M. P. P., president of the council of the British Columbia government and manager of the Great West Newspaper, Vancouver, B. C.; Robert Kelly, of Kelly, Douglas & Co., wholesale grocers, Vancouver, B. C.; Wm. Farrell, of Farrell, Tregent & Co., commercial brokers, president B. C. Telephone Co., Vancouver, B. C.; P. Donnelly, late manager of the Great West Permanent Loan & Savings Co., Vancouver, B. C.; Frank S. Barnard, director of companies, Victoria, B. C.; Richard Hall, M. P. P., insurance and financial agent, Victoria, B. C.; D. S. Ker, president and manager the Brackman-Ker Milling Co., Victoria, B. C.

With the above well-known men as directors and the great demand for such a company in British Columbia, the "Securities Corporation of British Columbia" is sure to occupy an enviable position amongst our financial institutions of Canada.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

November 24, 1905.

(In the Full Court.)
Present, Martin, Duff and Morrison.
The West Kootenay Light & Power Co. v. The Corporation of the City of Nelson.—This is an application by the city of Nelson for leave to admit further evidence which was not adduced at the trial, on the ground that such evidence was not available at the time of trial. The nature of the evidence proposed to be submitted is evidence showing the nature of the bottom of Kootenay River between the upper Bonington Falls and the intake to the canal of plaintiffs at lower Bonington Falls, and demonstrating same by plans of the river and cross section plans, and oral evidence in support thereof. (2) Evidence showing by measurements the depth of the water of said river between the said falls and the said intake, and particularly showing by further evidence than that already adduced, the depth and nature of the river and the bottom thereof adjacent to the said intake; and also in the pools below said falls. (3) Evidence showing the direction of the currents between the said two points on the said river and the rate of such current between such points.

Mr. A. H. MacNeill, K. C. (Mr. Lennie with him) objected at the outset to the admission of the proposed evidence, and proceeded to argue from the material in the appeal book that the defendant had at their disposal at the time of the trial the same class of evidence and the means of obtaining it, and their being allowed to bring it in at this stage, after having gone to trial and obtained an adverse verdict, would be contrary to authorities and principle.

Donald, K. C., with him, in reply to this argument showed that the defendant had the alternative of either going to trial with the incomplete material at their command at the time, or submitting to an injunction tying up their works, at great expense and loss of time. It was quite in line, he submitted, with both the authorities cited as well as according to the principle at stake in the case to admit this evidence, as the rule excluding further testimony of this kind was only enforced when the party had not been diligent to collect and marshal his evidence before the trial judge, or showed by his conduct that he was not acting openly with the court.

The court, after a few minutes' deliberation, decided to admit the evidence, Martin, J., dissenting.

(Before His Honor Judge Lampman).
Truro Mills Co. vs. S. Reid Co., Ltd.—This was an application by Mr. Robertson for a stay of proceedings. The defendant is proceeding to tax his general costs of the action, on the ground that the same was dismissed owing to the plaintiffs not having given security for costs; but the defendants say that the plaintiffs had waived their right to insist on that procedure being followed, that the defendant has no order to tax, and therefore cannot tax. An adjournment was ordered, to allow the parties to look up authorities. Mr. Fell, contra.

Sayward vs. Dunsin.—This action was tried before the new tariff of costs came into force, but the costs of the action have not yet been taxed. The plaintiffs applied for a direction that they should be taxed according to the new tariff, but His Honor directed that taxation should proceed on the old scale. Mr. Higgins for plaintiff; Mr. Barnard for defendant.

Cameron vs. Evans.—The receiver's costs were taxed at $12.50. Lord Macdonald.—This is an action by certain plaintiffs in Manitoba against the defendant, who lives in Victoria, for a return of money paid by them as joint makers of a note. Application was made to strike out certain paragraphs in the dispute note. Judgment was reserved.

A RELIABLE REMEDY FOR COUGHS.
With the dry, cold weather of the early winter months, parents of croupy children should be on the alert for ominous symptoms. There is no cause for anxiety when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is kept in the home. If this medicine is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even coughs, the cough will be arrested, the attack may be warded off. Mrs. S. Rosenthal, of Turner, Michigan, says: "We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for ourselves and children for several years, and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for croup and can highly recommend it." For sale by all druggists.

An Acknowledgment.—As another result of the appeal recently published in the Colonist, the manager of the Seamen's Institute is pleased to see that a further claim has been made upon his gratitude by a donation from Mrs. (Dr.) J. D. Hednicken for which kindness he hereby desires, in the name of merchant seamen, to tender his sincerest thanks; and as it is expected that a number of ships and sailors will be coming from various parts of the world, to this port shortly, he will be grateful for any help which friends may be pleased to give, to enable him to make the Seamen's Institute here at Victoria, the similar institution elsewhere, not only a comfortable and pleasant place of resort, while ashore, for these worthy "toilers of the sea," but also a credit to this fair city, the western outpost of the British Empire.

When President Roosevelt visited Atlanta, Ga., recently, he met, among other notable men, Mr. Joel Chandler Harris, the author of the "Uncle Remus" stories now appearing exclusively in THE METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE. Mr. Roosevelt referred in warm terms to the pleasure he had received from the "Uncle Remus" tales, which pleasure, he said, he had shared with all his children.

"I am very fond of Uncle Remus. Presidents may come, and Presidents may go, but Uncle Remus stays put. Georgia has done a great many things for the Union, but she has never done more than when she gave Mr. Joel Chandler Harris to American literature."
"The best feature of my visit to Atlanta," continued the President, "was meeting Joel Chandler Harris at a luncheon party. By George, that was great! He is a wonderful man. I regard him as the greatest educator in the South along the lines in which he writes. One of the very pleasant memories of my Southern trip will have been my association with him."

Perhaps the best of the "Uncle Remus" stories appears in the December (Christmas) Number of THE METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE. It is amusingly illustrated by A. B. Frost. There are twenty other features in the same issue, including Twelve Pictures in Color. The Christmas Metropolitan is for sale by all newsdealers and booksellers at

Daily Review of Local Markets

Fruit Stores Again Replenished Owing to Arrival of 'Frisco Steamer.

New Raisins Just Received—Sugar Back to Normal Figure.

The arrival of the 'Frisco steamer last night alleviated the rapidly diminishing conditions of the fruit market and this morning the stores are again well supplied. With the exception of bananas there is a full range of California fruits, principally oranges. Yesterday's receipts of apples showed an improvement in color and the fruit is more mature than the previous consignments. The prices range from 25 to 35 and 50 cents per dozen, according to quality. Several varieties of grapes were received, but the figure to the consumer still remains at 75 cents per basket. Apples are good, the imported variety bringing 15 cents per pound. In another week or ten days dealers are expected to be handling the local hot-house grown article.

The first of the imported Malaga raisins were received yesterday at the grocery stores and are worth from 25 to 50 cents per pound.

WHOLESALE MARKETS.

Yesterday's receipts at the commission houses from California included Tokay, Concord, Valencia, and other grapes, navel oranges, lemons, tomatoes and small lot of persimmons and pomegranates. The market for grapes still remains at $2.25 per crate and the present supply will probably go off at that figure before any advance is made, though grapes are getting scarcer with each steamer. The non-receipt of bananas finds the market cleaned up, but the next north-bound steamer is due with a few bunches for Victoria. The market for lemons is somewhat Persimmons at $1.00 and pomegranate at $2.25 are today's prices. Little local fruit is being received, the market having quieted off and the supply on hand being sufficient to meet present demands. Local News.

The Destroyed Mails.—Information received at the local postoffice yesterday was to the effect that in respect to the fire on the C. P. R. near Ottawa, which destroyed western mails, no mail matter from Victoria was in the accident. This statement will allay the feelings of apprehension of many who feared that letters from British Columbia had been lost.

A Slight Blaze.—The fire department was called out last evening to attend to a fire in a defective flue in a house on Superior street. In some accountable manner the chimney became blocked, and the smoke being unable to make a passage up the chimney came down and filled the room. The occupants hurriedly fled, and the fire was on fire and sent in an alarm, but outside of a severe fright, no damage resulted.

North Ward Active.—The rate payers of the central portion of North Ward have decided to organize on a similar basis as Spring Ridge and Victoria Ward, and for this purpose a public meeting is called at the assembly rooms of the North Ward school on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The question of fair redistribution of the city wards is receiving attention by the two organizations now in existence. The city's interest in this new organization is a continued effort, it is expected will be made to submit the matter to a plebiscite on the lines of the last division made by the city assessor, and which was admitted by all to be a fair one.

Sunday School Work.—Rev. Dr. Campbell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has forwarded to the Colonist, for publication the following personal appeal to Sunday School workers: "This is your duty to canvass the city of Victoria. Do your work faithfully and well so that you may merit the committee's 'Well done good and faithful servant.' The Master expects every one to do his duty. Parents and Sunday school friends receive the canvassers promptly and kindly. Do not keep them knocking and waiting, but see that some one is in the home to give them the desired information at once. Every home in the city shall be visited today. The field is large, the work is heavy, so help to lift your end of the log cheerfully, readily and willingly."

Rev. Wm. Murphy.—The Montreal Standard in a recent issue contains an excellent half-tone portrait of Rev. Wm. Murphy a brother of the well known Murphy boys of Ashcroft and Cariboo. In a biographical sketch the Standard says: "Rev. William Murphy has just been appointed in residence of Ottawa, a city where he is an eminent educationalist, known to hundreds of Canadians and Americans who have passed through the college during the last fifteen years. For ten years he was professor of natural science, astronomy, physics, and for the last three years occupied the pulpit of St. Joseph's church, which he still holds in addition to his university duties. He is a native of British Columbia, but has resided in Ottawa many years."

Weekly Review of Trade Conditions

Bradstreet's Report Shows a Satisfactory State of Affairs.

Business at British Columbia Points Active in Principal Lines.

New York, Nov. 24.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Retail trade is active in Canada, while wholesale trade shows reasonable quiet, except in re-order dry goods business and in holiday and fancy goods. Very good reports come from the spring trade.

Montreal reports wholesale trade quiet, with re-orders of dry goods fair and the outlook for spring satisfactory. City collections are fair. Hardware shipments are still large. Fancy goods are active. Wheat exports are heavy.

Toronto reports a good holiday and spring trade at wholesale. Retail trade is better and building is active beyond the ordinary for this season.

Winnipeg reports the grain blockade seriously affecting shipments of goods from the East. Sales for spring are good, collections are improving and retail trade is active.

In British Columbia retail trade is good, real estate, lumber and building are all active and there is growth shown in demand for grain from Eastern surplus sections.

Gossip of the Stock Exchange

New York, Nov. 24.—The movement of prices today was more confused and irregular than is often seen on the stock exchange. The action of some stocks became so erratic as to unsettle speculative sentiment and lead to a general selling in the day. The market as a result was a downward into decided dullness for a considerable period. Recent speculative favoring the covering of a doubtful investment. The opening trading showed them under pressure of the same character as yesterday. Vigorous support ran them up to good gains over last night's level, but this advance was again followed by constant and violent fluctuations both up and down. The movement in Union Pacific also was calculated to puzzle observers. After yesterday's sudden rise this stock was almost unobtainable and the general feeling at the last, any effort to rise above last night's level meeting such heavy offerings as to drive it back. These offerings, however, quickly decreased and the market prices and evidences of support for the stock developed. This would point to a process of profit taking on the wide advance of yesterday. United States preferred stock was the most prominent subject for yesterday's leadership of the market by Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio also enjoyed a period of strength. TALK TO FARMERS
IN THE INTERIOR

Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Expert on Livestock
Complete Tour.

J. R. Anderson, deputy minister of agriculture, and P. M. Logan, an expert of the livestock division of the federal department of agriculture, have returned to Victoria after a tour of interior points, where they delivered a series of addresses at the regular meetings of the different farmers' institutes in the towns visited.

Mr. Anderson devoted his talks to the subject of fruit culture and gave demonstrations of pruning, etc., in the orchards, and Mr. Logan took for his subjects soil cultivation and the conservation of soil moisture and dairying, and also gave practical demonstrations with livestock.

The meetings were invariably well attended by only active members of the institutes but the general public, who took great interest in the various subjects discussed.

When at Enderby the two gentlemen, at the request of Sir Arthur Stepten, visited his farm, he having, on the advice of the provincial agricultural department, decided to change his plan of working the Stepten ranch from grain growing to dairying and fruit culture. The officials advised as to the proper location and the most suitable character of the buildings necessary for dairying operations and the most desirable location for an orchard.

Institute Meetings.—Speaking of the tour yesterday, the deputy minister said: "We first visited Nelson, where we held two successful meetings, and one day was spent in field work. Another meeting was held at Kaslo, then we journeyed to Creston. At this point the East Kootenay Farmers' Institute was organized, and we gave an open air demonstration and held an evening meeting. From the Kootenays we proceeded to the Okanagan, holding the first meeting at Enderby, where both field demonstrations and a meeting were held. Peachland was next visited and we had the pleasure of addressing one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings of the tour. Returning to Vernon we held a field demonstration and an evening meeting. The next day we visited the Coldstream ranch, Lord Aberdeen's famous estate, and proceeded to Lumby, where addresses were given. At this thriving point a creamery is about to be started. The capacity will be for at least 200 cows. A demonstration and a splendid evening meeting was held at Kamloops and a trip of inspection made to Fruitlands, the irrigation enterprise owned by Canadian Real Properties, Limited. A large acreage of hitherto worthless land has been brought under water, and as settlement of the ten and twenty-acre tracts is effected a substantial population and trade will accrue to the inland capital.

Salmon Arm was next visited. Here we did field work in the orchards and held a meeting in the evening. This meeting was so protracted—the members being so interested in the several subjects under discussion—that we missed our westbound train. Accordingly the next day Mr. Logan returned to Enderby and I took the opportunity of visiting Revelstoke. At Revelstoke I drove out to several of the nearby orchards and gave some practical demonstrations and advice to the orchardists. Revelstoke is a district that requires careful attention, as the people are now going in a good deal for fruit cultivation and need instruction to start right. Meanwhile Mr. Logan had attended the sale of livestock that Sir Arthur Stepten held. We met again at Sicamous and returned direct to Victoria.

Okanagan a Great Fruit Country.—In the course of the reporter's conversation with Mr. Anderson he was told of one or two instances of remarkable returns received by Okanagan fruit growers for this season's crop. One case was that of the Coldstream ranch, Mr. Ricardo, the manager, having told the visitors that from twenty acres of north-eastern Spies apples over $12,000 was made. Another instance was that of a fruit grower at Peachland, who sold one and one-half acres of peaches on the tree for $700. Again, the wonderful productivity of the soil of that section was cited in the case of Mr. Gellatley's place on Okanagan lake, where from three to four acres planted in tomatoes had produced $1,500 per acre. Mr. Gellatley obtained 10 cents per pound for early tomatoes and also informed the visitors that from one vine alone 420 tomatoes had been harvested. "One might go on recounting instances after instance," said the deputy minister, "of this kind. Over in the Kootenays, in the vicinity of Nelson, the strawberry business is assuming large proportions, and this past season quite a considerable quantity of these delicious berries were marketed at good figure to the grower, not only in the home city, but at every point along the Crow's Nest Pass railway right into Alberta. The industry proved a profitable venture to those who have gone into strawberry culture. The markets are near at home; prices, particularly in the coal mining towns, are excellent, and the climatic conditions such that the growing of this berry has been demonstrated a success."

Replying to a question as to the prevalence of an epidemic of glanders in the Okanagan, Mr. Logan said that Dr. Tolmie, Dominion veterinarian, was in Peachland waging an effective crusade against the spread of the disease to other points. "I learned that 58 horses had been killed at Peachland," he said, "and since there is no cure once an animal is effected, the only way to stamp out glanders is by a bullet. Many valuable horses have had to be sacrificed, but this is the only way to free the district."

About the 6th of December Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Logan will visit Alberni and French Creek to finish up the fall meetings of the institutes at these points.
